

W.M. 3 Feb. 1975.

Flares over AWN. coastline baffle coastguards Nº 9.

COASTGUARDS AND police have been baffled by mystery flares over the coast near Llantwit Major.

In recent months there have been four or five reports of flares from the Tresilian area.

Police, coastguards, Atlantic College students and members of the public have reported seeing the yellowish-colour flares.

The latest incident was on Saturday evening.

Llantwit Major coastguard Mr. Griff Williams said that a student at the college reported seeing the flare. A search party was sent out to the Tresilian area where two fishermen confirmed the sighting.

"It's all a bit of a mystery," said Mr. Williams.