

UFOs follow Dad, says Sara

Western Mail Reporter

SARA GANDY has a down-to-earth explanation for the sudden appearance of UFOs in the skies over West Wales... they have simply followed her Dad.

After all, reasoned Sara, aged 12, he did live at Warminster — the UFO centre of Britain — before moving to a smallholding at Mathry, near Fishguard.

So, understandably, Sara decided to put an end to all the mystery and speculation by writing to the children's section of a local newspaper, informing everyone that the space ships have been sent towards Milford Haven because of her father.

She said, "When my Dad was living at Warminster, lots of UFOs were sighted, and now several space ships and UFOs have been seen down towards Milford Haven.

"So doesn't it seem rather obvious that all these space ships are after my Dad? They have followed Dad from England to Wales."

But Dad, Mr. Patrick Gandy, aged 35, of Blaen-Ilyn, Mathry, thinks otherwise,

WE CAME WEST AND SO DID THEY, SHE TELLS EVERYONE

and has disclaimed responsibility for bringing the UFOs to West Wales.

"It's a good job we have a sense of humour," he said. Mr. Gandy, a postman based at Fishguard, knew that Sara was writing a story about UFOs. But it came as a "ghastly shock" when he saw it in the newspaper.

He has had his leg pulled about Sara's theory, but has enjoyed the humorous side of it. "I couldn't admonish her for it," he said. "After all, she's got an open, inquiring mind, and this is obviously what she thought."

Mr. Grundy and his family moved to their smallholding two years ago, and he has one other child.

He has never seen a UFO but is not a disbeliever. "I keep an open mind myself on such things," he said.
