

UFO sighted on top of mountain

Bob Taylor.

MORE than twenty workers at a Rogerstone factory on Wednesday saw a UFO rest on Twyn Barlwm mountain and glow a brilliant white.

The object was spotted first by Mr. Arthur Moore, 63, of Park Avenue, Ty-Isaf, Pontymlister, who was on the roof for fresh air at the Avana factory, where he works as a mixer.

"A black cloud came over Twyn Barlwm, and when it cleared there was a massive, white, oblong object resting on the ground. It was like a double-decker bus," he said.

Prominent

He saw the object at 7.15 a.m., and it was positioned just to the right of the ancient encampment which forms a prominent hump on the mountain.

It glowed a vivid white, blended into the background, then got bigger again, he said.

Mr. Moore told his work-mates, who disbelieved him at first. But they saw it too.

Mr. Les Brown, another employee, described the object as a silver, oval dome made of aluminium.

The object disappeared completely at 10.45 a.m.

Twyn Barlwm is steeped in folk-lore. Ghostly organ music is supposed to float down the mountainside in certain weather conditions.

Legend has it that one child who followed the music was never seen again.

So what can I do with them all?

WESTERN MAIL 22 OCT 80.

SIR, — I refer to the letter from Mr Peter Brooksmith requesting information on the paranormal events which have occurred and are still occurring in Wales and elsewhere.

After having spent some eight years or so in the investigation of and research into the bizarre and weird experiences of eye witnesses of the performance paranormal we have termed the Unidentified Flying Object, I can now only conclude that the heightened incidence of UFO sightings during the last decade or so reflects the socio-economic, the political and religious turmoil currently affecting our planet.

Indeed, as writers other than myself have stressed, they are signs of portents of mankind's future, which, unless there is a radical change in his conduct, could have the most horrendous effects on all living things.

The contactee-percipient syndrome therefore, of which I have personal experience, must be regarded both from a secular and a theological point of view, as being of the utmost importance to those involved in the investigation of the UFO phenomenon, and indeed, it is because of the psychosomatic effects the syndrome as a whole can produce upon the individual unfortunate enough to become embroiled within the UFO prodigy itself, that I have decided to opt out of any further work in this respect.

Which leaves me with a wealth of illogical detail in the form of witnesses' tape recordings, reports, photographs, books, etc, etc.
