Strange blue light sparks UFO theory

A STRANGE blue light which sped across the entire length of Wales on Sunday evening has baffled the experts.

Some say it was a meteor shower, others are firm believers that it was a UFO.

Now members of the Aberconwy Astronomical Society are eager to hear from eye witnesses to help collate information.

"There were sightings from South Wales up to Anglesey," said chairman Eddie Watson-Jones.

"One person, who was night fishing, said a brilliant blue light came shooting out of a cloud and then slowly headed north.

The RAF say it was not an aircraft.

The AAS, who meet in Madoc Street, Llandudno, have been asked by the British Astronomical Association to gather as much information.

The blue light would have been seen at approximately 11pm on Sunday evening, and anyone who saw it can Mr Watson-Jones on (0492) 530692.

A local fisherman, Mr John Povah from Rhos Point saw it passing over Colwyn Bay and Llandudno at around 11pm.

He said: "Usually when you see a shooting star it only lasts for a moment, but this was incredibly bright. It really lit up the whole sky as it streaked past and lasted for quite a few seconds.

"I'm not surprised some people thought it was a UFO about to land."
