

Wales 'is top UFO hotspot'

Wales is one of the world's top 'hotspots' of UFO activity, according to a new book published yesterday.

Author Jenny Randles, the director of investigations with the British UFO Research Association, says south-west Dyfed has one of the longest histories in the world of close encounters. The former science teacher said, "The area inland from Rhyl and in the hills around Denbigh and Mold has triggered countless strange encounters."
