

QUOTE OF THE DAY: "If Dr. Mack is right, it undercuts so much of the work of people over there. These people don't think anything is true unless they've got a controlled study with rats." — An anonymous source close to the case of John Mack, a psychiatrist at Harvard, where a committee is investigating whether his alien-abduction research meets the school's standards for scholarship Article, 2A