

A composite image of Saturn and its rings. The planet is a pale yellowish-gold color, partially obscured by a large, dark, shadowed region on the left. The rings are a series of concentric, dark grey bands. A prominent hexagonal storm is visible on the planet's surface, appearing as a bright, yellowish hexagon. The background is black.

Saturn's Unique Hexagon in Full View