

Recently On-Board ISS...

June is Vision Health Awareness Month

The information obtained from this spaceflight experiment may be relevant for patients suffering from eye diseases such as glaucoma, and diseases of the brain, for example, hydrocephalus and idiopathic intracranial hypertension.