\h Mike Leinbach/Launch Director: Thank you, Kathy. And ops manager?

00:00:21,590 --> 00:00:22,970

\h Mike Moses/Mission Management Team Chairman: Let's see, Mike. Looks like we

10

00:00:22,970 --> 00:00:27,170

\h have acceptable weather conditions around the world tonight for what we need.

11

00:00:27,170 --> 00:00:33,050

\h Mission management team doesn't have any other issues on the plate, so, you are "go" to launch Endeav

12

00:00:33,050 --> 00:00:39,890

\h Mike Leinbach/Launch Director: OK. Thank you, sir. Endeavour, launch director, air-to-ground one?

13

00:00:39,890 --> 00:00:43,030

\h George Zamka/STS-130 Commander: Launch director, this is Endeavour. Go ahead, sir.

14

00:00:43,030 --> 00:00:46,640

\h Mike Leinbach/Launch Director: OK, Zambo. Looks like the weather came together tonight, the vehicle's

15

00:00:46,640 --> 00:00:48,110

\h so it's time to go fly.

16

00:00:48,110 --> 00:00:53,240

\h Wish you good luck, Godspeed, and we'll see you back here in about two weeks.

17

00:00:53,240 --> 00:00:56,490

\h George Zamka/STS-130 Commander:
Yeah, thanks, Mike. And thanks to the great team that got Tranquility,

18

00:00:56,490 --> 00:00:58,760

\h cupola and Endeavour to this point.

19

00:00:58,760 --> 00:01:03,860

\h And thanks also to the team that got us ready to bring Node 3 and cupola to life.

20

00:01:03,860 --> 00:01:07,220

\h And we'll see you in a couple weeks, it's time to go fly.
