

1

00:00:09,230 --> 00:00:33,990

\h Kyle Herring/Mission Control And landing gear is down. Main gear touchdown. And nose gear touchdow

2

00:00:33,990 --> 00:00:37,830

\h Space shuttle Discovery's rolling out on Runway 15 at the Kennedy Space Center,

3

00:00:37,830 --> 00:00:45,510

\h completing 202 orbits of the Earth while traveling 5,304,000 miles.

4

00:00:45,510 --> 00:00:49,780

\h This landing marks the 70th shuttle mission to end at KSC.

5

00:00:49,780 --> 00:00:52,960

\h Discovery spent eight days docked to the International Space Station,

6

00:00:52,960 --> 00:00:55,940

\h leaving behind the first Japanese long-duration crew member and

7

00:00:55,940 --> 00:01:03,030

\h also leaving it more power capability -- setting the stage for an increase to six-person crew in late May.

8

00:01:03,030 --> 00:01:08,780

\h Sandy Magnus, mission specialist, now aboard Discovery -- home after 134 days in space,

9

00:01:08,780 --> 00:01:15,910

\h 129 of those aboard the International Space Station. Discovery's completing the 36th voyage

10

00:01:15,910 --> 00:01:39,950

\h of its life and the 125th space shuttle mission in the history of the program.

11

00:01:39,950 --> 00:01:43,040

\h Lee Archambault/STS-119 Commander Houston, Discovery is wheelstop.

12

00:01:43,040 --> 00:01:47,660

\h George Zamka/STS-119 CAPCOM Houston copies, wheelstop. Welcome home Discovery after a great

13

00:01:47,660 --> 00:01:55,170

\h International Space Station to full power. Special welcome home to Sandy after living and working on bo