

1
00:00:00,000 --> 00:00:05,710

\h Music.

2
00:00:05,710 --> 00:00:09,840

\h The STS-126 astronauts flew into NASA's Kennedy Space Center

3
00:00:09,840 --> 00:00:14,990

\h in Florida on October 26 for their scheduled countdown rehearsal.

4
00:00:14,990 --> 00:00:19,030

\h The seven-member crew spent three days in exercises officially known

5
00:00:19,030 --> 00:00:23,510

\h as the Terminal Countdown Demonstration Test, or T – C – D – T.

6
00:00:23,510 --> 00:00:27,040

\h The astronauts practiced emergency evacuation at the launch pad.

7
00:00:27,040 --> 00:00:35,050

\h They received instruction on driving the M-113 armored personnel carrier as part of their emergency exercise.

8
00:00:35,050 --> 00:00:41,400

\h Commander Chris Ferguson and Pilot Eric Boe practiced landings in the Shuttle Training Aircraft.

9
00:00:41,400 --> 00:00:48,900

\h The activities culminated in a launch dress rehearsal and practice countdown with the look and feel of a real launch.

10
00:00:48,900 --> 00:00:53,050

\h With the exercises complete, the crew members flew back to their home base at

11
00:00:53,050 --> 00:00:58,150

\h NASA's Johnson Space Center in Houston, where they will continue to train.

12
00:00:58,150 --> 00:01:02,650

\h Endeavour and crew are targeted for lift off on November 14.