

1

00:00:00,940 --> 00:00:04,510

\h Launch Commentator George Diller: This is shuttle launch control at T-minus three hours and holding.

2

00:00:04,510 --> 00:00:16,000

\h Here's our Commander Chris Ferguson. He's in the suit up room, he's having a fit check of his helmet.

3

00:00:16,000 --> 00:00:24,570

\h Going over to Pilot Doug Hurley. This is his second trip into space.

4

00:00:24,570 --> 00:00:32,440

\h He completed his first flight into space on STS-127. He's logged more than 376 hours in space.

5

00:00:32,440 --> 00:00:38,510

\h And here is Mission Specialist number one, Sandy Magnus.

6

00:00:38,510 --> 00:00:45,490

\h This is her third spaceflight. She's got more than four months in space aboard the International Space S

7

00:00:45,490 --> 00:01:02,960

\h This is Rex Walheim, he's our Mission Specialist number two.

8

00:01:02,960 --> 00:01:08,320

\h Crew going down the elevator where they'll be greeted by employees for

9

00:01:08,320 --> 00:01:12,410

\h Kennedy Space Center and members of the news media.

10

00:01:12,410 --> 00:02:47,570

\h (Cheers)

11

00:02:47,570 --> 00:03:37,270

\h And there they go. Escorted by NASA security. There'll also be a helicopter flying overhead.

12

00:03:37,270 --> 00:03:47,060

\h The Astrovan is now on the pad's surface.

The crew will be disembarking in just about five minutes.
