00:00:00,260 --> 00:00:04,770

Hi I'm NASA Kennedy's Barbara Kennedy taking you Inside KSC.

2
00:00:04,770 --> 00:00:11,240

NASA's four Commercial Crew astronauts visited Kennedy this week to discuss the program's

3
00:00:11,240 --> 00:00:16,230

progress toward launching humans again from Florida's Space Coast in the near future.

4
00:00:16,230 --> 00:00:22,300

Bob Behnken, Eric Boe, Doug Hurley and Suni Williams work closely with Boeing and SpaceX

5
00:00:22,300 --> 00:00:28,100

as the two companies develop independent spacecraft to carry astronaut to and from the space station.

6
00:00:28,100 --> 00:00:32,149

An essential piece of ground support equipment for the Starliner crew access tower, which will be used for Commercial Crew made its way through Kennedy this week.

7
00:00:32,149 --> 00:00:35,550

8
00:00:35,550 --> 00:00:40,389

The crew access arm for Space Launch Complex 41 arrived from its Oak Hill construction

9
00:00:40,389 --> 00:00:45,030

site and soon will be lifted into place where it will form a bridge for astronauts to Boeing's

10
00:00:45,030 --> 00:00:47,010

spacecraft.
