NASA astronaut training spacewalk NASA

2
00:00:19,580 --> 00:00:14,060
welcome to the neutral buoyancy lab at 3

00:00:21,170 --> 00:00:19,590
the Johnson Space Center in Houston this 4

00:00:23,900 --> 00:00:21,180
is the largest indoor pool in the world

5
00:00:25,609 --> 00:00:23,910
and contains a full-scale replica of the 6

00:00:33,450 --> 00:00:25,619
International Space Station with a

7
00:00:33,460 --> 00:00:48,540
come dive in

8
00:00:53,310 --> 00:00:51,360
assisted by a team of support staff our 9

00:00:55,230 --> 00:00:53,320
astronauts practice here for their 10

00:01:03,860 --> 00:00:55,240
upcoming missions to the ISS

00:01:16,560 --> 00:01:14,550
tasks include the repair and maintenance

00:01:18,929 --> 00:01:16,570

of crucial equipment as well as

00:01:19,830 --> 00:01:18,939

practicing zero-g maneuvers in their 15

00:01:55,540 --> 00:01:19,840

bulky space suit

17

00:02:13,320 --> 00:02:11,190

but the time our astronauts perform a 18

00:02:20,060 --> 00:02:13,330

real spacewalk they will have spent more
