WE ARE RESILIENT

A MESSAGE FROM NASA ASTRONAUTS

1

00:00:01,280 --> 00:00:05,600

Hi, I'm Colonel Mike Hopkins alongside\h
my crewmate Commander Victor Glover and\h\h

2

00:00:05,600 --> 00:00:09,006

we're aboard the International Space Station.

3

00:00:09,006 --> 00:00:10,960

For more than a year now, the pandemic has changed

4

00:00:10,960 --> 00:00:14,000

the way we've lived our lives.
Masks and social distancing\h\h

5

00:00:14,000 --> 00:00:17,120

have become a way of life.
We visit family and friends virtually.\h

6

00:00:17,120 --> 00:00:20,080

We conduct business with\h
computers instead of a handshake.\h

7

00:00:20,080 --> 00:00:23,120

We've lost friends and colleagues.
But we're in this together.\h\h

8

00:00:23,760 --> 00:00:26,836

Doctors needed ventilators, so NASA built them.

9

00:00:26,836 --> 00:00:30,436

Field hospitals needed help, so NASA provided air support.

10

00:00:30,590 --> 00:00:32,160

We're there for each other.

11

00:00:32,160 --> 00:00:37,360

From 250 miles up, I see us united as a people.
And as we wait for the vaccines to be rolled\h\h

12

00:00:37,360 --> 00:00:40,320 out and administered, we're going to

to be patient and do what's right.

13

00:00:40,320 --> 00:00:42,748

Ignition ... lift off

14

00:00:42,748 --> 00:00:45,120

Crew-1 named our Dragon capsule Resilience

15

00:00:45,120 --> 00:00:49,120

in part to honor all of you and the amazing
tenacity that you've shown over the past year

16

00:00:49,120 --> 00:00:54,240

while overcoming obstacle after obstacle. Keep it up and take care of each other. Take care of 17

00:00:54,240 --> 00:00:56,767

yourself and together we'll get through this.

18

00:00:56,767 --> 00:00:59,600

Yes, it's been one tough year.
