

The image features a dark blue horizontal band across the center. On the left and right sides of this band, there are faint, glowing blue wireframe structures that resemble space station or launch facility components. The background of the entire image is dark, with a blurred, glowing orange and yellow light source at the bottom center, suggesting a rocket launch or a celestial body. The text "ARTEMIS LAUNCH" is centered within the blue band in a white, bold, sans-serif font.
