00:00:00,449 --> 00:00:03,450

If the theory of evolution is correct,

00:00:03,450 --> 00:00:06,451

we should say a steady, slow progression.

00:00:06,451 --> 00:00:08,452

We're actually not seeing that.

00:00:08,452 --> 00:00:11,453

What we're seeing really is something like

5

00:00:11,453 --> 00:00:13,453

Out of the Lord of the Rings.

00:00:13,453 --> 00:00:16,454

You have a group of people indigenous to this planet,

00:00:16,454 --> 00:00:19,455 and you really can't trace what their ancestry was.

8

00:00:19,455 --> 00:00:23,457

The planet has been an experimental lab.

00:00:23,457 --> 00:00:28,458

At this point, we don't know exactly why these other species died off.

10

00:00:29,459 --> 00:00:32,460

Could this be an experiment by extraterrestrials

11

00:00:32,460 --> 00:00:36,461

where in the end only homo sapiens survived?

12

00:00:37,462 --> 00:00:40,463

Since the dawn of civilization,

13

00:00:40,463 --> 00:00:46,465

mankind has credited its origins to gods and other visitors from the stars.

14

00:00:46,465 --> 00:00:49,466

What if it were true?

15

00:00:49,466 --> 00:00:55,468

Did extraterrestrial beings really help to shape our history?

16

00:00:55,468 --> 00:01:02,470

And if so, might the proof be found by investigating the prototypes?

17

00:01:25,478 --> 00:01:30,479

The World of Trees

18

00:01:33,480 --> 00:01:38,482

Temple University, Philadelphia, 1992

19

00:01:38,482 --> 00:01:44,484

History professor Dr. David Jacobs releases his book, Secret Life.

20

00:01:46,485 --> 00:01:50,486

After over 30 years of collecting research data

21

00:01:50,486 --> 00:01:53,487

and interviewing hundreds of individuals

22

00:01:53,487 --> 00:01:57,489

claiming to have been abducted by extraterrestrials,

23

00:01:57,489 --> 00:02:03,491

Jacobs became convinced that aliens were using Earth as a genetic laboratory

24

00:02:03,491 --> 00:02:08,492 to create a new species of alien human hybrids.

25

00:02:10,493 --> 00:02:16,495

I've looked at about 1150, 1175 different abduction events,

26

00:02:16,495 --> 00:02:20,496

and I became convinced that this was the real item

27

00:02:20,496 --> 00:02:22,497

that people actually were being abducted.

28

00:02:22,497 --> 00:02:26,498

And they all say the same thing, and it's global.

29

00:02:27,499 --> 00:02:32,500

They put on a table, there are procedures that are applied to them.

30

00:02:32,500 --> 00:02:37,502

Men have sperm taken from them, women have eggs taken from them.

31

00:02:39,503 --> 00:02:45,505

Very often, they're taken into other rooms where they see babies

32

00:02:45,505 --> 00:02:51,507

who look odd, look sort of like a cross-gain human and alien babies.

33

00:02:51,507 --> 00:02:59,510

The question is, are humans being manipulated to become a hybrid species themselves?

34

00:03:03,511 --> 00:03:09,513

Although critics acknowledge that Dr. Jacobs' research is meticulous and methodical,

35

00:03:09,513 --> 00:03:14,515

they continue to dismiss the abduction phenomenon entirely.

36

00:03:14,515 --> 00:03:19,516

But could it be that extraterrestrials are actually using human DNA

37

00:03:19,516 --> 00:03:23,518

to add a new branch to the evolutionary tree?

38

00:03:23,518 --> 00:03:27,519

Ancient astronaut theorists say yes,

39

00:03:27,519 --> 00:03:32,521

and they suggest that while modern day abduction stories are compelling,

40

00:03:32,521 --> 00:03:38,523

the answer might best be found by examining mankind's very beginnings

41

00:03:38,523 --> 00:03:44,525

and the numerous other human-like species with whom we once shared the Earth.

42

00:03:53,528 --> 00:04:00,530

Gautang Province, South Africa, September 13, 2013.

43

00:04:01,531 --> 00:04:06,532

Recreational spelunkers unearth a trove of human-like fossils

44

00:04:06,532 --> 00:04:11,534

deposited deep inside a cavern known as the Rising Star Cave.

45

00:04:12,534 --> 00:04:17,536

Paleoanthropologists determine that the bones are remarkably distinctive

46

00:04:17,536 --> 00:04:21,537

from any previously found early human remains.

47

00:04:21,537 --> 00:04:27,539

And upon further examination, decide that they are actually not human at all.

48

00:04:28,540 --> 00:04:32,541

Adding a startling new piece to the evolutionary puzzle.

49

00:04:33,541 --> 00:04:36,542

They call this new species Homo naledi.

50

00:04:36,542 --> 00:04:40,544

To correspond with the dinaledi chamber it was discovered in,

51

00:04:40,544 --> 00:04:44,545

which translates to chamber of stars.

52

00:04:47,546 --> 00:04:52,548

What is remarkable about these hominids is that they are a distinctive mix

53

00:04:52,548 --> 00:04:58,550

of both primitive and more advanced hominin characteristics.

54

00:04:58,550 --> 00:05:02,551

So there are some elements of hominid, like the shape of the skull,

55

00:05:02,551 --> 00:05:08,553

the size of the teeth, the feet, the ankles, that are very human-like.

56

00:05:09,554 --> 00:05:14,555

There are other characteristics, like the brain size, only about 500 cc,

57

00:05:14,555 --> 00:05:17,556

so about a third of modern human brain size,

58

00:05:17,556 --> 00:05:22,558 and also aspects of the shoulder and the trunk that are much more primitive,

59

00:05:22,558 --> 00:05:26,559

much more similar to our earlier hominin ancestors.

60

00:05:27,560 --> 00:05:31,561

The original thought is this might be really the first humans of Africa,

61

00:05:31,561 --> 00:05:36,563

7 to 3 million years ago, but this cave seemed newer.

62

00:05:36,563 --> 00:05:40,564

The way the bodies were placed seemed almost too regular.

63

00:05:40,564 --> 00:05:45,566

It looked as if there was at least a ceremony to what was being done.

64

00:05:45,566 --> 00:05:51,568

And that of course suggests that this would be a fairly well-on evolutionary advanced creature.

65

00:05:52,568 --> 00:06:01,571

Finding the hominid bones is considered the most astonishing human fossil discovery of the last 50 years,

66

00:06:01,571 --> 00:06:07,573

as it adds a baffling new branch to the human family tree.

67

00:06:10,574 --> 00:06:12,575

This is a tremendously exciting time.

68

00:06:12,575 --> 00:06:19,577

Both the fossil and the genetic evidence really underscore that there is much more diversity

69

00:06:19,577 --> 00:06:23,579

in human forms in our evolutionary past than we previously recognized.

70

00:06:25,579 --> 00:06:31,581

The hominin, or hominid, branch of the evolutionary tree includes modern humans,

71

00:06:31,581 --> 00:06:36,583

as well as the extinct human predecessors, such as Neanderthal,

72

00:06:37,583 --> 00:06:43,585

Homo habilis, Homo erectus, and other early intelligent standing primates

73

00:06:43,585 --> 00:06:46,586

that have long since vanished.

74

00:06:46,586 --> 00:06:49,587

And despite many years of thinking otherwise,

75

00:06:49,587 --> 00:06:55,589

scientists are now discovering that many of these species coexisted.

76

00:06:57,590 --> 00:07:01,591

What we're seeing really is something like out of the Lord of the Rings,

77

00:07:01,591 --> 00:07:10,594

where we have all kinds of different humanoids who are tall and short,

78

00:07:10,594 --> 00:07:15,596

who have different color skins, different types of hair.

79

00:07:15,596 --> 00:07:19,597

Even their brains are slightly different.

80

00:07:19,597 --> 00:07:24,599

Some are more animals or apes. Others are more refined.

81

00:07:27,600 --> 00:07:35,603

Some researchers suggest that these recent discoveries may require a retooling of Darwin's theory of evolution,

82

00:07:35,603 --> 00:07:39,604

which was first proposed in 1859.

83

00:07:40,605 --> 00:07:47,607

In his work on the origin of species, Darwin laid out the foundation for evolutionary theory

84

00:07:47,607 --> 00:07:53,609

by proposing that gradual multi-generational changes occurring due to natural selection

85

00:07:53,609 --> 00:07:58,611

would result in the modification of existing species.

86

00:08:00,611 --> 00:08:06,613

If the theory of evolution is correct, we should see a steady, slow progression.

87

00:08:06,613 --> 00:08:11,615

We're actually not seeing that. We're seeing the sudden surfacing of early humans

88

00:08:11,615 --> 00:08:14,616

who are actually very highly evolved.

89

00:08:15,616 --> 00:08:23,619

The scientific community explains everything away by nothing else but natural selection and coincidence.

90

00:08:23,619 --> 00:08:29,621

And the intelligent design camp suggests everything was done by God.

91

00:08:29,621 --> 00:08:37,624

What if this external force did in fact exist, but it may have been an extraterrestrial?

92

00:08:41,625 --> 00:08:50,628

Could it be that the evolution of humans and even pre-human hominid might not be entirely what Darwin proposed?

93

00:08:51,629 --> 00:09:01,632

Might there be an even more profound explanation for the different species of intelligent hominid that once existed on Earth?

94

00:09:02,632 --> 00:09:11,635

Perhaps clues can be found by exploring the details contained within some of humanity's earliest stories of our creation.

95

00:09:12,636 --> 00:09:22,639

We have this notion that the people that were the earliest examples of a civilization were not the first attempts.

96

00:09:24,640 --> 00:09:31,642

That there were failures that came before and finally they would come up with something better, and that would be the prototype that became the people.

97

00:09:32,642 --> 00:09:38,644

Sumerian texts speak of deformed humans created by Enki and the mother goddess Nincursag.

98

00:09:38,644 --> 00:09:48,648

In the course of their efforts to fashion a perfect person, in all six proto-humans were made before they came up with what they wanted.

00:09:49,648 --> 00:09:56,651

In the Mayan text of Popol Vuh, the book of the people, it is said that there were three attempts to make people.

100

00:09:57,651 --> 00:10:17,658

Could the stories of gods creating multiple versions of man, which can be found in the Mayan Popol Vuh, the ancient Sumerian texts and other writings, be accounts of what actually happened on Earth in the distant past?

101

00:10:18,658 --> 00:10:22,659

And if so, just who were these gods?

102

00:10:23,660 --> 00:10:37,664

It's a very good chance that early humans were possibly genetically manipulated by advanced extraterrestrials trying to formulate and create the ultimate human species.

103

00:10:38,665 --> 00:10:52,670

What if at the heart of it is the concept that the planet itself has been an experimental lab, an experimental garden, and had all of these different models,

104

00:10:52,670 --> 00:11:07,675

getting to Homo sapiens that there had been all kinds of models, all for different reasons, all part of tests, all done by DNA manipulation by non-humans in the extraterrestrial category.

105

00:11:09,675 --> 00:11:21,679

Could the widespread mythologies about the creation of various human prototypes be real accounts of an extraterrestrial experiment, an experiment that continues to this day?

106

00:11:22,680 --> 00:11:31,683

Perhaps further clues can be found by examining the fossil discovery of real life hobbits.

107

00:11:53,690 --> 00:12:01,693

The Indonesian island of Flores, just north of Australia, September 6th, 2003.

108

00:12:02,693 --> 00:12:17,698

Archeologists seeking evidence for the first Homo sapiens migration to Indonesia come upon what they believe is the skull of a human child embedded in the Earth, 20 feet beneath the surface of Leongbua Cave.

109

00:12:18,699 --> 00:12:30,703

After several days of careful excavation, enough of the cranium and mandible are exposed to reveal that the teeth belong not to a child, but to a fully grown adult.

110

00:12:32,703 --> 00:12:41,706

The skull, along with the skeletal remains that were recovered weeks later, belonged to an ancient hominid that stood only 3.5 feet tall.

111

00:12:42,707 --> 00:12:51,710

Scientists named the species Homo Flores ciensis, but they are more commonly referred to as the hobbits.

112

00:12:53,710 --> 00:13:04,714

The Flores hominid date to 16 to 18,000 years ago, a time period when we thought only anatomically modern humans existed.

00:13:05,714 --> 00:13:19,719

What is remarkable about the Flores remains is their tiny, tiny body size, and as well, at least one of the specimens has a brain size that is only about the size of a chimpanzee, 300 to 400 ccs.

114

00:13:20,720 --> 00:13:27,722

And yet you have tools that are consistent with anatomically modern humans. How to reconcile that is still an open question.

115

00:13:28,722 --> 00:13:38,726

The recent discoveries of these hobbits on the island of Flores in Indonesia has really rocked the anthropological world.

116

00:13:39,726 --> 00:13:52,730

Anthropologists were really not aware and didn't think that there would be this miniature type of person who is a distinct species from Homo sapiens.

117

00:13:57,732 --> 00:14:07,735

Prehistoric stone tools found on the island of Flores suggest that these so-called hobbits may have arrived there 800,000 years prior.

118

00:14:12,737 --> 00:14:19,740

How did these species get to the island? So there are two options how this could have happened.

119

00:14:19,740 --> 00:14:31,744

One is that these hobbit people arrived there on boats or they were planted there by extraterrestrials in the remote past.

120

00:14:32,744 --> 00:14:39,746

Some people even have suggested that this island served as some type of a petri dish because of its isolation.

121

00:14:40,747 --> 00:14:56,752

Seven years after the initial Flores discovery, archaeologists stumbled across yet another new species, 8,000 miles away in the remote, all-time mountains of Siberia.

122

00:14:57,752 --> 00:15:13,758

Isolated in a cave at an elevation over 2,400 feet above sea level, scientists discover a finger bone fragment and tooth of a previously unknown pre-human that existed at least 40,000 years ago.

123

00:15:14,758 --> 00:15:20,760

They name the species, Denisoven, after the name of the cave that the bones were found in.

124

00:15:21,760 --> 00:15:29,763

It's particularly fascinating that when we look at the geographical distribution of the early humans, they're in different parts of the world.

125

00:15:30,764 --> 00:15:39,767

We have the Denisovens in Siberia, in Russia. We have Homo floresiensis on the island of Flores and the list goes on.

126

00:15:40,767 --> 00:15:53,771

It begs the question, how would that happen? Why would it not be the case that multiple different types of human would appear in multiple areas, but they had their own geographical locations?

127

00:15:54,772 --> 00:16:07,776

Discoveries made in just the last two decades paint a picture of at least four distinct groups of intelligent hominids existing in isolated pockets of the world.

128

00:16:08,776 --> 00:16:17,779

Homo floresiensis, isolated on the island of Flores. Denisovans, being found in the all-time mountains of Siberia.

129

00:16:18,780 --> 00:16:26,782

Neanderthal, found occupying Western Europe and anatomically modern humans evolving in Africa.

130

00:16:29,783 --> 00:16:44,789

Scientists don't entirely understand the role of geographic isolation, but what we know from studies of island populations of both humans and non-human species today is that isolated environments are fertile ground for producing geograde.

131

00:16:47,790 --> 00:16:54,792

They are unique and distinctive adaptations and also extremes in body size.

132

00:16:56,793 --> 00:17:06,796

In 1972, renowned evolutionary theorist Dr. Stephen J. Gould proposed a modification to the standard model of evolution.

133

00:17:07,796 --> 00:17:22,801

His punctuated equilibrium theory addressed evidence that changes in the fossil record came not as a steady process of gradual evolution as proposed by Darwin, but rather in fits and starts.

134

00:17:24,802 --> 00:17:29,804

And these rapid changes seem to primarily occur in situations of isolation.

135

00:17:30,804 --> 00:17:45,809

His theory continues to be considered controversial, as it also suggested that there must have been an unknown mechanism at play, but his research stopped short of defining what this could have been.

136

00:17:46,810 --> 00:17:55,813

We don't have the step-by-step changes that we were expecting to find.

137

00:17:56,813 --> 00:18:01,815

So we have to ask ourselves, is there really this slow, random evolution?

138

00:18:02,815 --> 00:18:14,819

Or are there sudden leaps where suddenly there is a new kind of species that's just come straight out of the incubator and starts to grow?

139

00:18:15,819 --> 00:18:23,822

So it's like we have these different species of humans that are being developed in isolation in different parts of the world.

140

00:18:24,822 --> 00:18:39,827

Extraterrestrials would use islands for one experiment, tops of mountains for another experiment, but they would control what they were doing by keeping their different experiments separated from each other.

141

00:18:39,827 --> 00:18:45,829

Oceans, mountains, islands, peninsulas.

142

00:18:46,830 --> 00:19:04,836

If you subscribe to the Zoo Hypothesis, which suggests that this entire planet is nothing else but an experiment for extraterrestrial entities, then one has to wonder, could this be an experiment by extraterrestrials where in the end only homo sapiens survived?

143

00:19:04,836 --> 00:19:15,840

Could remote areas of the globe have served as extraterrestrial incubation sites for proto-human development?

144

00:19:16,840 --> 00:19:23,842

If so, was the experiment eradicated to make room for the growth of homo sapiens?

145

00:19:24,843 --> 00:19:33,846

Perhaps further clues can be found by taking a closer examination of our nearest evolutionary cousin, the Neanderthal.

146

00:19:35,846 --> 00:19:36,847

Coming up...

147

00:19:37,847 --> 00:19:42,849

It doesn't look like lack of intelligence led to the demise of Neanderthals.

148

00:19:43,849 --> 00:19:48,851

This was extraterrestrial intervention, wiping out early humans and starting over.

149

00:19:49,851 --> 00:19:56,853

150

00:19:57,854 --> 00:20:07,857

Archeologists unearth the prehistoric grave containing three individuals buried side by side with their arms folded in a ritualistic fashion.

151

00:20:08,858 --> 00:20:14,860

Because of the manner of their burial, the archaeologists assume the remains are human.

152

00:20:15,860 --> 00:20:21,862

But are surprised to discover that they are actually our evolutionary cousin, Neanderthal.

153

00:20:25,863 --> 00:20:29,865

It takes a good deal of imagination to prepare the dead.

154

00:20:29,865 --> 00:20:33,866

It suggests some kind of notion of an afterlife.

155

00:20:34,866 --> 00:20:37,867

If there is that, there is usually a notion of a deity of some kind.

156

00:20:38,868 --> 00:20:47,871

That is fairly complicated religious thinking, suggesting that the Neanderthals had a capacity for symbolic reasoning and the formation of culture.

157

00:20:48,871 --> 00:20:57,874

This suggests a level of civilization, or at least the proto-culture that is further along than we used to think.

158

00:20:58,874 --> 00:21:07,877

Neanderthals, unfortunately, because of early discoveries that made them look like a brutish caveman, not intelligent, that they're very, very different from us.

159

00:21:08,878 --> 00:21:11,879

They were shorter and stockier, but they had huge brains.

160

00:21:12,879 --> 00:21:17,881

They clearly had clothing, they cared for their sick and elderly. They were very intelligent.

161

00:21:18,881 --> 00:21:33,886

In 2014, scientists analyzed materials from 40 different archaeological sites to determine a reliable extinction date for Neanderthals.

162

00:21:34,887 --> 00:21:44,890

The date they came up with is 40,000 years ago, suggesting they coexisted with Homo sapiens for at least 1,000 years.

163

00:21:44,890 --> 00:21:48,891

But just why did they die off?

164

00:21:52,893 --> 00:21:56,894

At this point, we don't know exactly why these other species died off.

165

00:21:57,894 --> 00:22:06,897

Certainly, it does broadly coincide with the expansion of anatomically modern humans to all parts of the globe.

166

00:22:06,897 --> 00:22:17,901

But contrary to our notions from the past, it doesn't look like it was a lack of intelligence that led to the demise of Neanderthals.

167

00:22:21,903 --> 00:22:34,907

Although Neanderthals are long extinct, in 2013, evolutionary geneticists discovered select modern human populations carried genomes from both Neanderthal and Denisovans,

168

00:22:34,907 --> 00:22:38,908 suggesting that at some point, interbreeding occurred.

169

00:22:39,909 --> 00:22:45,911

Neanderthal genetic markers are concentrated in populations in Europe and parts of the Middle East.

170

00:22:46,911 --> 00:22:56,914

Denisovan markers can be found in the mainland Asian populations, as well as Pacific Islander, New Guineans and Australian Aborigines.

171

00:22:57,915 --> 00:23:11,919

According to some ancient astronaut theorists, this interbreeding may be the key to understanding the demise of the other intelligent hominin species that once shared the planet with humans.

172

00:23:12,920 --> 00:23:31,926

Consider the possibility that these different hominid strains were meant to be kept geologically separated from each other, across tracts of land that were considered to be too vast for them to ultimately come into contact with one another.

173

00:23:32,927 --> 00:23:49,932

Is it possible that interbreeding was frowned upon and that once interbreeding with Neanderthals started to take place, it was damaging the very essence of the experiment, and because of that, Neanderthal strain had to be terminated or removed from the planet to stop this from happening.

174

00:23:50,933 --> 00:24:05,938

When we look at ancient texts, particularly religious texts from millennia ago, what we find is the idea of the gods or a god wanting to create a human that was pure, sort of physically and morally.

175

00:24:06,938 --> 00:24:18,942

What we also find are accounts where the wrath of God or the wrath of the gods hammered down on us, or essentially going off the rails, so to speak.

176

00:24:19,942 --> 00:24:36,948

And we could make a case that this was some example of extraterrestrial intervention to essentially try and purify again the species, and that might have involved wiping out significant portions of early humans and starting over.

177

00:24:36,948 --> 00:24:52,954

It's very possible that the aliens decided that in order to cleanse the planet, they needed to do things of huge magnitude, like the flood that the Bible talks about.

178

00:24:54,954 --> 00:25:00,956

The flood was geared to primarily eradicating the people that were on the planet at that time.

179

00:25:01,957 --> 00:25:17,962

While God could have been the extraterrestrials, could have created that somehow. It's very possible, and very likely that in order to eradicate a species that they may have genetically altered themselves and screwed up with, that they needed to get rid of them and start all over again.

180

00:25:18,962 --> 00:25:37,969

Did extraterrestrials eradicate various pre-human species in an attempt to keep the human genetic line clean? Could the evolutionary bottlenecks in our prehistory support this theory?

181

00:25:38,969 --> 00:25:47,972

And just as evidence of interbreeding exists in our genetic signature, might there also have been unintended survivors?

182

00:25:50,973 --> 00:25:51,974

Coming up.

183

00:25:51,974 --> 00:25:57,976

There is no connection between these two groups. We couldn't understand why they're so different, these X-hafflows groups.

184

00:25:57,976 --> 00:26:03,978

You have people indigenous to this planet, and you really can't trace what their ancestry was.

185

00:26:08,979 --> 00:26:13,981

Emory University, Atlanta, Georgia, 1998.

186

00:26:15,982 --> 00:26:25,985

Researchers analyzed DNA data collected from various Native American populations in an effort to trace back their ancestral descent through the Bering Strait.

187

00:26:26,985 --> 00:26:41,990

The lineages are categorized into four Haplogroups A, B, C, or D. Each line representing a different migration off the Asian continent between 20 to 30,000 years ago.

188

00:26:42,991 --> 00:26:52,994

But what they also find is that a small portion of the Native population falls completely outside any previously known genetic group.

189

00:26:52,994 --> 00:26:59,997

They can trace the ancestry back 36,000 years, but not to the Bering Strait.

190

00:26:59,997 --> 00:27:02,998

Scientists dub it the X-lineage.

191

00:27:03,998 --> 00:27:19,003

Among human hafflows groups, one stands out the X-lineage, which is found in about 2.5% of some Native American groups, and also in a small population of Northern Europeans and the Middle East.

192

00:27:19,003 --> 00:27:26,005

And there is no connection between these groups. We couldn't understand why they're so different, these X-hafflows groups.

193

00:27:27,006 --> 00:27:36,009

Isn't it amazing that you have a group of people, indigenous, we think to this planet, and you really can't trace what their ancestry was?

194

00:27:36,009 --> 00:27:48,013

Scientists throw up their hands and they simply say, I don't know how this can be, because these people aren't somehow related to these people. How can this be?

195

00:27:49,013 --> 00:28:05,019

While the source of this X-lineage remains a mystery, some ancient astronaut theorists believe it might be connected to a lost race of people that were said to have existed throughout the world, including North America.

196

00:28:06,019 --> 00:28:17,023

It's possible that this X-lineage gene is related to the giants that were reported throughout the world.

197

00:28:17,023 --> 00:28:30,027

Starting in the mid-1800s in America, archaeologists began excavating skeletons of giants who were 7 to 8 feet tall in many cases.

198

00:28:35,029 --> 00:28:46,032

In the 1800s, Smithsonian archaeologists unearthed dozens of oversized skeletons contained within the burial mounds of the ancient Adina Indian tribe.

199

00:28:48,033 --> 00:28:59,037

The highest concentration of which were found in the Kanawa Valley of West Virginia, an area known to researchers as the Valley of the Giants.

200

00:29:00,037 --> 00:29:10,041

Author and researcher William Henry is meeting up with a local Adina Indian researcher, Jason Gerald, to have a look at one of these ancient earthworks.

201

00:29:11,041 --> 00:29:18,043

This is the Creole Mound, and this mound was excavated by the Smithsonian Institution in November of 1883.

202

00:29:18,043 --> 00:29:26,046

The Smithsonian sank a circular shaft from the top of this mound down through the center to the bottom. Wow!

203

00:29:27,046 --> 00:29:30,047

And that's where they found an elaborate tomb.

204

00:29:31,048 --> 00:29:34,049

This structure contained 11 burials.

205

00:29:34,049 --> 00:29:39,050

10 of these burials were arranged in a semi-circular fashion around a central personage.

206

00:29:39,050 --> 00:29:44,052

So you have 10 people around a central figure. What was significant about this central figure?

207

00:29:44,052 --> 00:29:54,055

According to AR signs who assisted in the excavation of this mound, the central burial, when measured in the tomb, was 6'8 and 3 quarters.

208

00:29:54,055 --> 00:30:00,057

Now the skull had been pulverized by the excavation, so a complete measurement wasn't possible.

209

00:30:00,057 --> 00:30:04,059

So in all likelihood this individual was probably around 7' tall.

210

00:30:04,059 --> 00:30:06,059

That's a giant!

211

00:30:06,059 --> 00:30:08,060

It's a gigantic humanoid.

212

00:30:09,060 --> 00:30:15,062

So we're saying the Smithsonian came here in 1883 and discovered a giant.

213

00:30:15,062 --> 00:30:20,064

That's correct. In fact, they discovered giants in many of the mounds here in Charleston.

214

00:30:20,064 --> 00:30:23,065

There were originally 50 burial mounds in this valley.

215

00:30:23,065 --> 00:30:24,066

Wow!

216

00:30:24,066 --> 00:30:27,067

And I've actually got some documentation here to show you.

217

00:30:27,067 --> 00:30:28,067

Let's see.

218

00:30:28,067 --> 00:30:34,069

This is the manuscript of the agent of the Smithsonian who excavated these mounds.

219

00:30:34,069 --> 00:30:43,072

And this represents his day-to-day journal of his excavations, including the one that's mentioned on this page, which is measured as 7' 6".

220

00:30:43,072 --> 00:30:44,072

Incredible!

221

00:30:44,072 --> 00:30:52,075

So wait a minute, this is a government worker who's out doing a job excavating a mound and he discovers giants.

222

00:30:52,075 --> 00:30:58,077

Multiple gigantic skeletons, the ones in this valley being between 7 and 8' tall.

223

00:30:58,077 --> 00:30:59,077

That is incredible.

224

00:30:59,077 --> 00:31:02,078

So why don't we all know about it? How come it's not in history books?

225

00:31:02,078 --> 00:31:10,081

Well, the policy of denial of the discovery of gigantic human skeletons actually wasn't enacted until about 1920.

226

00:31:10,081 --> 00:31:15,083

Before that time period, the Smithsonian acknowledged these giants in their own reports.

227

00:31:15,083 --> 00:31:16,083

Absolutely amazing.

228

00:31:19,084 --> 00:31:23,085

For years, I've been hearing stories, Native American legends about giants.

229

00:31:23,085 --> 00:31:28,087

It appears that we unearth evidence proof of their existence here in West Virginia.

230

00:31:28,087 --> 00:31:31,088

But for whatever reason, that proof was suppressed.

231

00:31:31,088 --> 00:31:37,090

It probably has to do with the fact that it doesn't fit with our model of human evolution.

232

00:31:37,090 --> 00:31:41,092

We have to ask, is there an extraterrestrial connection?

233

00:31:41,092 --> 00:31:48,094

You have these biblical stories of the Watchers and the sons of God coming to Earth,

234

00:31:48,094 --> 00:31:52,095

breeding with humans to create this new race of giants.

235

00:31:52,095 --> 00:32:01,098

The Nephilim, these giant skeletons seem to be evidence of the Watchers and the Nephilim.

236

00:32:02,099 --> 00:32:07,100

We have to ask ourselves who these 7, 8' giants were.

237

00:32:07,100 --> 00:32:12,102

Were they somehow the vestiges of these giants of the Bible?

238

00:32:12,102 --> 00:32:16,103

It's a mystery that archaeologists have yet to solve.

239

00:32:16,103 --> 00:32:23,106

And part of the answer may be extraterrestrial DNA that's part of these giants.

240

00:32:24,106 --> 00:32:36,110

Is it possible that the remains of a giant-sized population were discovered on the North American continent over 100 years ago?

241

00:32:36,110 --> 00:32:44,113

If so, were these beings a variation of Homo sapiens, an ancient intelligent hominin,

242

00:32:44,113 --> 00:32:48,114

or an otherworldly species altogether?

243

00:32:49,115 --> 00:32:58,118

Perhaps further clues can be found by examining the rarest and most mysterious human blood type on Earth.

244

00:32:59,118 --> 00:33:07,121

Coming up, R.H. negative people may have been evolved from a different kind of species.

245

00:33:07,121 --> 00:33:12,122

There is a danger because these two blood types can't interbreed.

246

00:33:13,123 --> 00:33:23,126

Located between the border of Spain and France is the Pyrenees Mountain Range.

247

00:33:23,126 --> 00:33:30,128

The people that occupy this isolated region are known as the Basque,

248

00:33:30,128 --> 00:33:34,130

and they have long confounded anthropologists and historians.

249

00:33:35,130 --> 00:33:42,132

The language spoken by the enclave is not related to any other in that part of the world.

250

00:33:42,132 --> 00:33:50,135

And the population also has the highest concentration of R.H. negative blood type in the world.

251

00:33:53,136 --> 00:33:58,138

Up to 35% of Basque people have R.H. negative blood,

252

00:33:58,138 --> 00:34:04,140

and R.H. negative blood is one of the most unusual blood types.

253

00:34:04,140 --> 00:34:12,143

And it's the one blood type that is least likely to mutate or interact with other blood types.

254

00:34:14,143 --> 00:34:23,146

Human blood types are grouped into four distinct designations that include O, A, B, and A, B.

255

00:34:23,146 --> 00:34:31,149

Additionally, there is another variance between blood types known as the R.H. factor, or Rhesus factor,

256

00:34:31,149 --> 00:34:35,150

which is a measure of Rhesus-based antigens in the blood.

257

00:34:35,150 --> 00:34:41,152

The name comes from a monkey from India and other parts of Asia, which is the Rhesus macaque.

258

00:34:41,152 --> 00:34:50,155

And this monkey was used in experiments looking at blood transfusions, how blood was received from recipients, varied.

259

00:34:50,155 --> 00:34:56,158

And it was discovered that the Rhesus factor could be positive or negative.

260

00:34:56,158 --> 00:34:59,159

Most humans in the world are Rhesus-positive.

261

00:35:04,160 --> 00:35:13,163

85% of humans in the world are R.H. positive and have no issues receiving blood from positive or negative donors.

262

00:35:14,164 --> 00:35:22,166

But for the R.H. negative population, receiving R.H. positive blood may be fatal,

263

00:35:22,166 --> 00:35:26,168

as the body will try to destroy the foreign antigens.

264

00:35:28,168 --> 00:35:35,171

And for women that are R.H. negative, mating with an R.H. positive partner could be detrimental to the fetus.

265

00:35:36,171 --> 00:35:50,176

If Rhesus-positive and Rhesus-negative parents were to have an offspring, there is a potential danger to the offspring,

266

00:35:50,176 --> 00:35:53,177

because these two blood types can't interbreed basically.

267

00:35:53,177 --> 00:35:55,177

Medical intervention is needed.

268

00:35:55,177 --> 00:35:59,179

It's why actually in the past people had to have a blood test before they were allowed to get married.

269

00:36:00,179 --> 00:36:09,182

The very fact that an R.H. negative mother, her body would actually try to kill an R.H. positive baby,

270

00:36:09,182 --> 00:36:12,183

generates bizarre scenarios.

271

00:36:12,183 --> 00:36:14,184

How on earth could this happen?

272

00:36:14,184 --> 00:36:22,187

It suggests somewhere in our lineage that the R.H. negatives and the R.H. positives are perceived as being profoundly different.

273

00:36:23,187 --> 00:36:31,190

And also studies of R.H. negatives suggest that they have lower than normal blood pressure, lower than normal pulse.

274

00:36:31,190 --> 00:36:35,191

In number of cases they have an extra vertebra in their back.

275

00:36:38,192 --> 00:36:40,193

R.H. negative is very rare.

276

00:36:40,193 --> 00:36:46,195

Most of the world didn't have it until colonization started in the 15th century.

277

00:36:46,195 --> 00:36:52,197

R.H. negative didn't exist in the Americas, it didn't exist in Southern Africa, it didn't exist in Asia.

278

00:36:52,197 --> 00:36:56,198

It was only in Europe, so it spread out from there.

279

00:36:56,198 --> 00:37:04,201

Out of Africa, that theory has it that all human beings originated in Africa, Southern Africa, sub-Saharan.

280

00:37:04,201 --> 00:37:06,201

They're all R.H. positive.

281

00:37:06,201 --> 00:37:08,202

They don't have any R.H. negative.

282

00:37:08,202 --> 00:37:11,203

Where did R.H. negative evolve then?

283

00:37:12,204 --> 00:37:15,205

Fifteen percent of the humans have R.H. negative blood.

284

00:37:15,205 --> 00:37:17,205

Fifteen percent.

285

00:37:17,205 --> 00:37:21,207

And scientists have no idea where it came from.

286

00:37:21,207 --> 00:37:30,210

What they do believe is that if you have that, you may have been evolved from a different kind of species on this planet.

287

00:37:30,210 --> 00:37:35,211

Now was that species put here, genetically altered?

288

00:37:35,211 --> 00:37:41,213

Or was it just a natural formation of the planet in its evolutionary stage?

289

00:37:41,213 --> 00:37:51,217

Who knows, but the fact is that R.H. negative people, and again there's 15 percent of them on this planet, may have come from outside sources.

290

00:37:53,217 --> 00:38:03,221

Could the R.H. negative blood type offer evidence of a vastly different pre-human evolution than what we are led to believe in our history books?

291

00:38:03,221 --> 00:38:10,223

Might it offer indisputable proof of extraterrestrial intervention in the remote past?

292

00:38:10,223 --> 00:38:16,225

But if so, is the experimentation with intelligent hominin over?

293

00:38:16,225 --> 00:38:19,226

Or is it still taking place?

294

00:38:19,226 --> 00:38:46,235

A decade and a half after Dr. David Jacobs wrote his book proposing that aliens are experimenting on humans, anthropologist Dr. John Hawks publishes research suggesting that humans have inexplicably experienced an accelerated evolution in recent history.

295

00:38:50,237 --> 00:38:56,239

A humanity entered into a supercharged period of evolution.

296

00:38:56,239 --> 00:39:07,242

If you look at DNA from a human walking around in 3000 BC and you compare it to what we have today, it is 7 percent different.

297

00:39:07,242 --> 00:39:09,243

What is this telling us?

298

00:39:09,243 --> 00:39:19,246

It could be that extraterrestrials are involved in that process, shepherding our genetic change through contact, through genetic work that they are doing.

299

00:39:21,247 --> 00:39:29,250

Millions of people report being abducted. They can't all be wrong. Something is happening to these people.

300

00:39:30,250 --> 00:39:43,255

And if you assume for a moment that we may be the test tube of the universe, where they experiment and genetically manipulate and change things, it's very possible that the experiment continues.

301

00:39:43,255 --> 00:39:53,258

Young children are changing. They're smarter. They're more mature. They're growing up much faster than we did when we were children.

302

00:39:54,258 --> 00:40:00,260

What will it be like 50 years from now or 100 years from now? Is anybody's guess?

303

00:40:01,261 --> 00:40:12,264

Could it be, as ancient astronaut theorists suggest, that evolution is not just the result of natural selection, but also alien manipulation?

304

00:40:13,265 --> 00:40:22,268

And that humans are quickly becoming an entirely new species, designed to replace Homo sapiens.

305

00:40:29,270 --> 00:40:40,274

What we will begin to see in the coming decades is the fulfillment of a plan by extraterrestrials to ultimately transform humans into celestial beings.

306

00:40:41,274 --> 00:40:48,277

The ultimate goal is to make us better suited for traveling in space in the return to the stars.

307

00:40:49,277 --> 00:40:57,280

Are we now being replaced by a brand new hybridized species?

308

00:40:58,280 --> 00:41:09,284

One of the things that I think about often now, Neanderthals never knew they were going to be replaced by Homo sapiens.

309

00:41:10,284 --> 00:41:27,290

Is mankind the result of an extraterrestrial experiment? Could isolated regions of Earth have served as laboratories until the time when one species was chosen to continue?

310

00:41:28,290 --> 00:41:34,292

And might this genetic manipulation still be ongoing even to this day?

311

00:41:35,292 --> 00:41:53,299

Perhaps it will soon be revealed that we too are experimental humans, serving as the latest link in the chain of a directed evolution, and being prepared for a future alongside our alien ancestors.

312

00:41:57,300 --> 00:41:59,301

Thanks for watching!
