

A large, moss-covered sculpture of a giant's face is the central focus of the image. The face is constructed from various types of moss and greenery, with two large, blue and white eyes. The sculpture is set in a lush garden with a path leading to a stone archway in the background. The overall scene is vibrant and naturalistic.

REAL GIANTS?