00:00:00,000 --> 00:00:03,500

The following program deals with a controversial subject.

00:00:03,500 --> 00:00:07,000

The theories expressed are not the only possible interpretation.

00:00:07,000 --> 00:00:11,000

The viewer is invited to make a judgment based on all available information.

00:00:11,000 --> 00:00:17,000

Tonight on Sightings, Stonehenge, The Pyramids, The Bermuda Triangle,

00:00:17,000 --> 00:00:20,000

do these places possess deadly mystical powers?

00:00:20,000 --> 00:00:24,000

Once you experience it, you have a lot of respect for it.

00:00:24,000 --> 00:00:27,500

Are these unexplainable phenomena proof of a greater force?

00:00:27,500 --> 00:00:30,500

Are they somehow produced by the Earth itself?

00:00:30,500 --> 00:00:34,500

Or are they a result of extraterrestrial contact?

10

00:00:34,500 --> 00:00:39,500

It seems strange. So many huge markings were made on the Earth.

11

00:00:41,500 --> 00:00:43,500

At that point, it started to appear.

12

00:00:43,500 --> 00:00:47,500

They had large, dark eyes, small, like hands.

13

00:00:49,500 --> 00:00:52,500

I began sensing, and knowing, and feeling.

14

00:00:53,500 --> 00:00:56,500

I do believe in life after death. I mean, I've been there.

15

00:00:56,500 --> 00:00:59,500

I am not scratched the surface of what the mind can do.

00:01:01,500 --> 00:01:03,500

It's a connection with the unknown.

17

00:01:10,500 --> 00:01:15,500

What is the purpose of immense stones carefully arranged on an English country plane?

18

00:01:15,500 --> 00:01:19,500

Why are there earthen mounds in the southeastern United States?

19

00:01:19,500 --> 00:01:24,500

Who built great granite pyramids in the jungles of Central America?

20

00:01:24,500 --> 00:01:26,500

How these places were created remains a mystery.

21

00:01:26,500 --> 00:01:33,500

But perhaps the greater mystery is why these places continue to fascinate us on such a profound level.

22

00:01:34,500 --> 00:01:43,500

The great forces of the Earth. Some are familiar and essential, such as the force of gravity or the dramatic forces of nature.

00:01:43,500 --> 00:01:50,500

But then there are darker, mysterious forces, feared and revered by ancient cultures.

24

00:01:50,500 --> 00:01:54,500

Strange energies that science is still at a loss to explain.

25

00:01:54,500 --> 00:02:00,500

The forces of the Earth are full of bizarre quirks that can cause destruction, even death.

26

00:02:03,500 --> 00:02:07,500

25 degrees north latitude, 70 degrees west longitude.

27

00:02:07,500 --> 00:02:13,500

The center of one of the most mysterious places on Earth, a so-called energy vortex of destruction.

28

00:02:13,500 --> 00:02:15,500

It's called the Bermuda Triangle.

29

00:02:15,500 --> 00:02:20,500

For 500 years, since Christopher Columbus first wrote about seeing weird phenomena here, more than 1,000 ships and planes have disappeared without a trace.

30

31

00:02:25,500 --> 00:02:35,500

We have no evidence whatsoever that makes the region described as a Bermuda Triangle any more dangerous than any other set of waters in the world.

32

00:02:37,500 --> 00:02:39,500

But that wasn't the case for Flight 19.

33

00:02:40,500 --> 00:02:42,500

December 5, 1945, 2 p.m.

34

00:02:42,500 --> 00:02:47,500

5 may be Avenger bombers leave Fort Lauderdale, Florida on a routine training mission.

35

00:02:47,500 --> 00:02:52,500

The pilots and crew are all experienced airmen. The day is clear and mild.

00:02:52,500 --> 00:02:55,500

But at 4 p.m. the Avengers begin sending out distress calls.

37

Then abruptly the SOS calls stop.

38

The crewmen are never heard from again.

39

00:03:01,500 --> 00:03:07,500

This missing squadron, known as Flight 19, becomes one of the greatest air mysteries of all time.

40

00:03:07,500 --> 00:03:11,500

Five planes and 13 airmen vanish in the Bermuda Triangle.

41

00:03:13,500 --> 00:03:17,500

Did a sudden change in weather cause the disappearance of Flight 19?

42

00:03:17,500 --> 00:03:20,500

Did they run into a bizarre geomagnetic force field?

43

Or was it pilot error?

44

00:03:22,500 --> 00:03:26,500

But pilot error in all five planes at the same time? Virtually impossible.

45

00:03:26,500 --> 00:03:29,500

Many theories have been proposed since 1945.

46

00:03:29,500 --> 00:03:34,500

The planes were abducted by UFOs, sucked into a parallel universe,

47

or even fell victim to death rays from Atlantis.

48

00:03:38,500 --> 00:03:41,500

Forty-five years later, a startling development.

49

In August 1991, a barnacle-encrusted Navy Avenger was recovered from the treacherous Bermuda Triangle.

50

00:03:48,500 --> 00:03:52,500

Does this bomber hold clues to the fate of Flight 19?

51

00:03:52,500 --> 00:03:58,500

When this Avenger broke the surface of the ocean, it was the most spectacular thing I'd ever seen in my life.

52

00:03:58,500 --> 00:04:00,500

It was like bringing a body out of the ocean.

53

00:04:00,500 --> 00:04:04,500

The mystery still lingers. We're still working on it today.

54

00:04:04,500 --> 00:04:08,500

A group called Project 19 is dedicated to solving the mystery.

55

00:04:08,500 --> 00:04:13,500

But retrieving the Navy plane also means they must work in the Bermuda Triangle.

56

00:04:13,500 --> 00:04:17,500

There are forces out there. There is a sense of energy about you all the time.

57

00:04:17,500 --> 00:04:20,500

You don't know what's going to happen out there.

58

00:04:20,500 --> 00:04:25,500

And as the recovery team works to determine if this Avenger was part of Flight 19,

59

00:04:25,500 --> 00:04:29,500

other sailors and pilots who dared to venture into the Bermuda Triangle

60

00:04:29,500 --> 00:04:32,500

continue to be plagued by the frightening phenomena.

61

00:04:32,500 --> 00:04:37,500

I took controls of the PBY about two hours out of Bermuda, and it really was a beautiful day.

62

00:04:37,500 --> 00:04:40,500

Suddenly, as I say, we could not see the wingtips of the airplane.

63

00:04:40,500 --> 00:04:44,500

It was like flying in a tube growing through this stuff, and it never dawned on me.

64

00:04:44,500 --> 00:04:47,500

I was in the Bermuda Triangle.

65

00:04:47,500 --> 00:04:51,500

On June 11th, 1986, Watan Caden and his wife Dee Dee

66

00:04:51,500 --> 00:04:57,500

were part of a flight commemorating the history of a PBY flying boat called the Catalina.

67

00:04:57,500 --> 00:05:02,500

The Cadens are both seasoned pilots with over 50 years of experience between them.

68

00:05:02,500 --> 00:05:08,500

On June 11th, Dee Dee was at the controls. Suddenly, all the plane's instruments stopped functioning.

69

00:05:08,500 --> 00:05:12,500

The magnetic compass with spinning was totally useless.

70

00:05:12,500 --> 00:05:16,500

We had nothing from the outside world. We were in limbo.

71

00:05:16,500 --> 00:05:20,500

We believe there was a tremendous electromagnetic effect. We don't know for sure.

72

00:05:20,500 --> 00:05:27,500

But we had two million dollars worth of the world's finest electronic instruments just completely crap out on us.

73

00:05:27,500 --> 00:05:31,500

Outside the window of the plane, it looked like you were flying an eggnog.

74

00:05:31,500 --> 00:05:35,500

It looked like flying through like an aluminum-marined pie.

75

00:05:35,500 --> 00:05:39,500

You lose all reference to what's right, what's left, what's up, what's down, and many airplanes go into an uncontrolled spin and just come out of the sky and smash into the ocean.

76

00:05:39,500 --> 00:05:44,500

77

00:05:44,500 --> 00:05:52,500

It was very sudden when we came out of it. And it was about an hour, maybe an hour and a half out of Jacksonville that it cleared up.

78

00:05:52,500 --> 00:05:55,500

And little by little, all the instruments began to come back online.

79

00:05:55,500 --> 00:05:59,500

The gyros stopped spinning, the magnetic compass settled down, and all the electronic devices came back in and were working perfectly.

80

00:05:59,500 --> 00:06:03,500

81

00:06:03,500 --> 00:06:07,500

Martin and Dee Dee Cadens survived because of sheer luck.

82

00:06:07,500 --> 00:06:12,500

Perhaps like the Cadens, flight 19's instruments failed, but the pilot's luck ran out.

83

00:06:12,500 --> 00:06:18,500

If that's true, then what is the source of a force powerful enough to make technology useless?

00:06:18,500 --> 00:06:25,500

It's hard for science to go out there and document it and dissect it because it doesn't happen all the time.

85

00:06:25,500 --> 00:06:32,500

But boy, once you experience it, you have a lot of respect for it. It's dangerous.

86

00:06:32,500 --> 00:06:40,500

We feel the unpredictable forces of the Earth in the violent eruption of a volcano or a sudden high-magnitude earthquake.

87

00:06:40,500 --> 00:06:46,500

These events remind us of the tremendous energy smoldering just beneath our feet.

88

00:06:46,500 --> 00:06:53,500

Might this energy build to such an intensity that it could transform the entire Earth in an instant?

89

00:06:53,500 --> 00:06:58,500

It's 2 p.m. in Los Angeles and you're stuck on the freeway.

90

00:06:58,500 --> 00:07:03,500

Just outside Omaha, it's 4 p.m. and you're finishing up the day's farm work.

91

00:07:03,500 --> 00:07:06,500

It's 5 p.m. in New York City and you're on your way home.

00:07:06,500 --> 00:07:16,500

Then, at exactly the same instant in time, everyone in the United States, everyone on the planet, shares one fatal experience, an unspeakable catastrophe.

93

00:07:16,500 --> 00:07:21,500

On May 5th, in the year 2000, the entire Earth turns on its side.

94

00:07:21,500 --> 00:07:33,500

On 5-5-2000, should the polar ice cap go in motion, the first thing that will happen will be tremendous earthquakes worldwide.

00:07:33,500 --> 00:07:38,500

Gigantic 8, 9, 10 on the Richter scale.

96

00:07:38,500 --> 00:07:46,500

And at the same time, volcanic activity erupting around the seismic regions of the Earth.

97

00:07:46,500 --> 00:07:54,500

And the wind as the Earth shifts will rage wildly trying to seek a new equilibrium.

98

00:07:54,500 --> 00:08:02,500

So the wind speeds of 200-300 miles an hour will literally destroy most dwellings on the surface.

00:08:02,500 --> 00:08:05,500

Is it possible for the Earth to turn on its side?

100

00:08:05,500 --> 00:08:08,500

Could Los Angeles become the new South Pole?

101

00:08:08,500 --> 00:08:10,500

Yes, says author Richard Noon.

102

00:08:10,500 --> 00:08:18,500

His research indicates that a polar shift is not just possible, it's inevitable, caused by a massive accumulation of ice at the South Pole.

103

00:08:18,500 --> 00:08:21,500

A theory introduced in part by Albert Einstein.

104

00:08:21,500 --> 00:08:28,500

Einstein found that the weight of the ice, the mass, it could be stone, ice, junk cars, whatever, it takes approximately 1700 pounds of pressure per square inch to fracture the rock, most of its sedimentary rock in Antarctica anyway.

105

106

00:08:38,500 --> 00:08:46,500

As the ice increases in height and size, the weight of it is beyond human comprehension.

107

And it presses, it depresses the ground under the ice.

108

00:08:51,500 --> 00:08:58,500

The ground under the ice in turn squeezes out the plastic viscous molten material underneath it.

109

00:08:58,500 --> 00:09:02,500

And that viscous molten material has to go somewhere.

110

00:09:02,500 --> 00:09:05,500

And it moves through the Earth's fault lines.

111

00:09:05,500 --> 00:09:10,500

And this creates more earthquake and volcanic activity, which is what you see today.

112

00:09:10,500 --> 00:09:15,500

Many highly active volcanoes have erupted since Mount St. Helens in 1980.

113

00:09:15,500 --> 00:09:23,500

And in a recent one month period, five earthquakes of a 6.5 magnitude or greater have shifted the Earth worldwide.

114

00:09:23,500 --> 00:09:26,500

We're in the middle of an environmental collapse.

115

00:09:26,500 --> 00:09:36,500

A shift of the crust of the Earth takes approximately three days to complete, and with it the destruction of most places on Earth.

116

00:09:36,500 --> 00:09:42,500

Within a three day period, everything that we now take for granted could violently disappear.

117

00:09:42,500 --> 00:09:45,500

The skyscrapers of Los Angeles, gone.

118

00:09:45,500 --> 00:09:48,500

The Golden Gate Bridge, twisted wreckage covered in ice.

119

00:09:48,500 --> 00:09:51,500

The Washington Monument, a mass of rubble.

120

00:09:51,500 --> 00:09:59,500

This is just one man's theory, but the buildup of ice at the poles is one fact in noon's theory confirmed by some geologists.

121

00:09:59,500 --> 00:10:08,500

Presently ice does build up at the South Pole, but it doesn't build up arbitrarily high because the Earth's crust is plastic.

122

00:10:08,500 --> 00:10:14,500

And it warps down as a consequence of the weight of the new snow and ice that's being piled up.

123

00:10:14,500 --> 00:10:20,500

So in reality, the whole depth of the ice cap doesn't get all that much bigger than it is right now.

124

00:10:20,500 --> 00:10:22,500

And what about the greenhouse effect?

125

00:10:22,500 --> 00:10:29,500

Haven't aerosol cans and industrial pollution created a hole in the ozone layer that's warming the Earth and melting polar ice?

00:10:29,500 --> 00:10:43,500

What happens is, at least early on, in a warming situation on the Earth, the natural convection currents in the atmosphere itself carry that warm moist air to the poles where the moisture condenses and falls as snow.

127

00:10:43,500 --> 00:10:51,500

Geology, the publication of the Geological Society of America, has recently published research that adds some substance to noon's theory.

128

00:10:51,500 --> 00:10:58,500

But the idea of a radical instantaneous polar shift is still considered extremely controversial.

129

00:10:58,500 --> 00:11:03,500

The theory that's proposed here is that the entire crust slides around catastrophically.

130

00:11:03,500 --> 00:11:10,500

And there's really no geologic evidence, there's no any kind of climatic, geochemical, geophysical evidence that shows that that's even possible.

131

00:11:10,500 --> 00:11:19,500

The supposed trigger for this global nightmare will be a rare alignment of all nine planets on May 5, 2000, just eight years from now.

132

00:11:19,500 --> 00:11:23,500

Noon believes this will be the fatal gravitational yank of the planet.

133

00:11:23,500 --> 00:11:26,500

A preposterous theory? Perhaps.

134

00:11:26,500 --> 00:11:31,500

But just remember, only 40 years ago, no one believed the universe began with a big bang.

135

00:11:31,500 --> 00:11:34,500

Today, it's scientific fact.

136

00:11:39,500 --> 00:11:44,500

Coming up, a woman who claims to have witnessed unexplainable natural phenomena.

137

00:11:44,500 --> 00:11:48,500

I saw this beautiful ball of light in the sky.

138

00:11:50,500 --> 00:11:55,500

Certain sites fascinate us because we don't know who created them, or even why they're there.

139

00:11:55,500 --> 00:12:03,500

And then there are even more enigmatic places, where strange phenomena are believed to reveal themselves again and again.

140

00:12:06,500 --> 00:12:09,500

Massive prehistoric stone monuments.

141

00:12:09,500 --> 00:12:14,500

Many people experience a strange feeling of fascination at these sites.

142

00:12:14,500 --> 00:12:19,500

It may be the same type of feeling that inspired the ancients to create them in the first place.

143

00:12:19,500 --> 00:12:31,500

When visitors have strange, unsettling feelings, some scientists believe they could be a real physical reaction to unusually high levels of radiation, or electromagnetism emanating from the Earth.

144

00:12:31,500 --> 00:12:37,500

These places have been deliberately placed in the locations of great natural power and energy.

145

00:12:37,500 --> 00:12:48,500

And that all the stone circles in England and Wales that we've closely checked all occur either immediately alongside a geological fault line, or in a very close proximity.

146

00:12:48,500 --> 00:12:53,500

And we find this sort of pattern throughout the world where we've been able to check it.

147

00:12:53,500 --> 00:13:04,500

And it tells us that people did choose specific areas of the Earth's surface because they had certain energetic properties about them.

148

00:13:04,500 --> 00:13:08,500

Paul Devereux is a researcher in the field of Earth mysteries.

149

00:13:08,500 --> 00:13:18,500

He investigates the secret energies present at ancient sites, like this bizarre collection of immense stones known as the Avebury Henge, erected 4,000 years ago.

150

00:13:18,500 --> 00:13:24,500

For the last 10 years, there have been many reports of unusual lights hovering overhead.

151

00:13:24,500 --> 00:13:29,500

They're clearly not UFOs, but frightening apparitions created right here on Earth.

152

00:13:29,500 --> 00:13:36,500

Lifelong Avebury resident Heather Garland came face to face with the lights on a clear night in 1987.

00:13:36,500 --> 00:13:45,500

I saw this beautiful ball of light in the sky, and I thought, oh, lovely full moon, because I love the full moon and starry night.

00:13:45,500 --> 00:13:51,500

And I watched and I thought, oh no, ye gods, it's not the full moon. The moon comes in the opposite direction.

155

00:13:51,500 --> 00:13:55,500

When it got to the stones, it turned and started coming towards me.

156

00:13:55,500 --> 00:14:00,500

With that, it came right down to the grass and just went out.

157

00:14:00,500 --> 00:14:09,500

These lights, nobody knows what they are. They're rather exotic phenomena. They're not UFOs, they're not flying saucers.

158

00:14:09,500 --> 00:14:14,500

They're somehow produced by the Earth itself. I call them Earth lights.

159

00:14:14,500 --> 00:14:24,500

Here, the seaside town of Penzance, in southwest England, a mysterious light phenomenon has been seen at this 3,000 year old subterranean chamber known as the Bollet Fugu.

00:14:24,500 --> 00:14:32,500

It continues to mystify visitors. Joe May is a teacher in Penzance and spent a night in the dark underground cavern in June 1988.

00:14:32,500 --> 00:14:42,500

Just before the point of dawn, I was awake and I thought I could see spiralling movements.

162

00:14:42,500 --> 00:14:49,500

It's the only way I could describe them, a sort of soup of spirals swirling around.

163

00:14:49,500 --> 00:14:56,500

And they were very like the shapes on the tips of your fingers. They suddenly exploded into stars.

164

00:14:56,500 --> 00:15:02,500

There were lots of little pinpricks of light in with them flowing around.

165

00:15:02,500 --> 00:15:09,500

Swirling carvings found in primitive dwellings around the world bear an uncanny resemblance to the sight Joe May describes.

166

00:15:09,500 --> 00:15:15,500

Could that mean that people saw these same lights 3,000 years ago?

167

00:15:15,500 --> 00:15:22,500

Another resident of Penzant's, artist Gabrielle Hawkes, is drawn to the Bollet Fugu by its mysterious energy.

168

00:15:22,500 --> 00:15:28,500

It happened some years ago when I was camping in the grounds here. I came into the Fugu.

169

00:15:28,500 --> 00:15:40,500

It was dark and dank and mysterious as usual. I kind of began to lose myself in a way, a feeling of timelessness for a few seconds.

170

00:15:40,500 --> 00:15:48,500

And then quite suddenly, it was as though a scene unfolded in front of me.

171

00:15:48,500 --> 00:16:00,500

It consisted of a scene in bright daylight of a church and a churchyard. I remember the colours were very bright.

172

00:16:00,500 --> 00:16:12,500

In some ways it was like a dream, but at the same time I was very much awake. I was aware of standing there thinking, well, this is extremely odd, you know, what is going on?

173

00:16:12,500 --> 00:16:19,500

Do these strange earth energies explain why ancient people selected these locations for their monuments?

174

00:16:19,500 --> 00:16:29,500

Perhaps we are in the late 20th century, beginning to understand scientifically what our ancestors understood intuitively about the potent energies of the earth.

175

00:16:29,500 --> 00:16:33,500

Coming up, are these landmarkings a result of extraterrestrial contact?

176

00:16:33,500 --> 00:16:41,500

No one knows exactly what intelligence was behind it.

177

00:16:41,500 --> 00:16:56,500

The surface of the earth covers 196,800,000 square miles. And even though every square mile has been mapped and scrutinized, there are still places of mystery that defy explanation.

178

00:17:00,500 --> 00:17:08,500

The ancient Nazca Indians of Peru covered their arid landscape with enormous, precise drawings carved into the rocky desert floor.

179

00:17:08,500 --> 00:17:15,500

Photographer Marilyn Bridges came here in 1976. That first journey to Nazca changed her life forever.

180

00:17:15,500 --> 00:17:22,500

She's driven by her need to understand what drove the ancient Nazcas to create these designs 2,000 years ago.

00:17:22,500 --> 00:17:39,500

I feel like I've had a calling in a way. I did photography from the ground for a long time, and when I was in Peru, I heard about these lines of Nazca markings that were so huge that you could only see them from the air.

182

00:17:39,500 --> 00:17:48,500

I couldn't believe what I was seeing. I gave myself this mission to photograph these and bring them back and share them with people.

183

00:17:48,500 --> 00:17:54,500

To say, look, this is what ancient man was doing with the land. Maybe something can be deciphered.

184

00:17:54,500 --> 00:18:02,500

Perhaps most puzzling of all, why are the hundreds of designs here so enormous? There are animal figures more than 400 feet long.

185

00:18:02,500 --> 00:18:11,500

Some patterns extend for over a half mile. Since the Nazca couldn't fly, who were they trying to reach out to with these huge designs?

186

00:18:11,500 --> 00:18:18,500

I'm looking at a lot of these markings and structures as if a god would look at them.

187

00:18:18,500 --> 00:18:29,500

Drawings for the eyes of the gods is just one theory. Others believe the designs formed an astronomical calendar, but because of their size, some believe these markings were actually UFO landing strips.

188

00:18:29,500 --> 00:18:42,500

It seems strange that about 2,000 to 3,000 years ago, so many huge markings were made on the earth, whether they were dug into the earth or raised from the earth.

00:18:42,500 --> 00:18:54,500

Peru isn't the only place Maryland Bridges has found huge landmarks visible only from the air. For 20 years, she has tried to capture on film the images that ancient cultures have left behind.

190

00:18:54,500 --> 00:19:04,500

It is for her an obsession with deciphering the messages of the past. In this pursuit, she routinely risks her life working from dangerously low altitudes.

00:19:04,500 --> 00:19:15,500

My flying is almost aerobatic. We have to slow the plane down to stall speed. Sometimes we even go into a stall.

192

00:19:15,500 --> 00:19:28,500

Stalling the plane at an altitude of only 200 feet reveals more than just an intellectual curiosity. It's an irresistible need to understand what ancient people had an irresistible need to create.

193

00:19:28,500 --> 00:19:41,500

There's a point that it strikes inside of people that maybe it takes them back in time to their heritage, to where we've all come from.

194

00:19:41,500 --> 00:19:46,500

Coming up, what mystical powers are hidden beneath the Black Hills?

195

00:19:46,500 --> 00:19:52,500

Our legends tell us that the Black Hills is the heart of our home, the home of our heart.

196

00:19:52,500 --> 00:20:03,500

For the Lakota Indians, the entire earth is revered, but only one place is truly sacred. They believe the Black Hills of South Dakota are the spiritual heart of the planet.

197

00:20:03,500 --> 00:20:21,500

As I have learned about the Black Hills from other tribes scattered throughout this land, throughout America, or what we call the Turtle Lila, what they understand also is that that is a center. The Black Hills are a center.

198

00:20:21,500 --> 00:20:34,500

Modern culture has also been drawn to the Black Hills, but for reasons that are far from spiritual.

Gold and uranium are mined here, and over 50 million visitors have marveled at its man-made wonders.

00:20:34,500 --> 00:20:56,500

The Black Hills booms like a heartbeat. We say it's the heartbeat of the earth. Once mining started heavily in the 1880s, coinciding with the time that we were forbidden to practice our religion, that booming got further and further and further apart.

200

00:20:56,500 --> 00:21:04,500

We're not with respect to this entity, to this earth, to this mother who gives us everything.

00:21:04,500 --> 00:21:20,500

We say that if the heart cannot live, the earth can't live. We believe that protecting the Black Hills has to do with all life, all of the children of the earth. When the Black Hills dies, the earth will die.

202

00:21:20,500 --> 00:21:29,500

A startling photograph taken from space, a God's eye view, so to speak, may prove the Lakota warning is right. The Black Hills are shaped like a human heart.

203

00:21:29,500 --> 00:21:43,500

Primitive cultures and religions worship the earth and man's connection to it. Perhaps by studying their mysterious monuments and seeking an understanding of Earth-Sun explain forces, we'll rediscover our own connection to the planet.

204

00:21:43,500 --> 00:21:51,500

The distant past may be the key to protecting our immediate future. For Sightings, I'm Tim White. Good night.

205

00:21:51,500 --> 00:22:09,500

Next week on Sightings, a UFO investigation team using ultra-sensitive video and laser equipment hunts for UFOs over the California desert. The startling images on an all-new UFO report next week on Sightings.

206

00:22:09,500 --> 00:22:27,500

Tomorrow night, for the first time ever, you'll see recordings of convicted mobster John Gotti's secret mafia initiation ceremony, taped by the FBI. Here the never-before-told story of the last godfather, the John Gotti story, a one-hour special tomorrow after cops.

207

00:22:27,500 --> 00:22:29,500

Now, stay tuned for Hidden Video.
