00:00:00,000 --> 00:00:26,400

The picture you're watching now is coming to you out of thin air.

2

00:00:26,400 --> 00:00:31,520

You can't see the signals that transmit television, but you can tune into them.

3

00:00:31,520 --> 00:00:34,680

A century ago the whole idea would have been extremely far-fetched.

00:00:56,400 --> 00:01:09,160

This contraption was devised by one of the greatest investigators of the paranormal.

5

00:01:09,160 --> 00:01:14,000

Harry Price, that's him over there, wanted to make sure that in silences with the spirits

6

00:01:14,000 --> 00:01:21,720

mediums couldn't cheat, so he wired up their hands and feet. One false move and caught in the act.

7

00:01:21,720 --> 00:01:27,360

Tonight we'll be telling the story of Harry Price's biggest job, the case of the most haunted

8

00:01:27,360 --> 00:01:32,880

house in England and how some claim it's still going on. We'll interview witnesses and reconstruct

9

00:01:32,880 --> 00:01:40,080

what they say they heard and saw. Do you believe in life after death? Some people not only believe, they say they know it exists. They are the one in four people who after traumatic accidents,

10

00:01:40,080 --> 00:01:45,560

11

00:01:45,560 --> 00:01:52,320

operations or cardiac resuscitation all describe the same thing, dying and coming back to life

12

00:01:52,320 --> 00:01:58,400

and in between glimpsing a world beyond. What have become known as near-death experiences

13

00:01:58,400 --> 00:02:03,680

were recorded long ago in the ancient Egyptian and Tibetan books of the dead and by the Greek philosopher Plato too, but they cross all cultural boundaries. They can't of course be proved,

14

00:02:03,680 --> 00:02:09,320

15

00:02:09,320 --> 00:02:14,560

however sincerely they're reported, but what can be proved is that those involved have had a close brush with death.

16

17

00:02:16,040 --> 00:02:30,640

He was pretty close to death because he had severe hypotermia, he had severe injuries. On the records

18

00:02:30,640 --> 00:02:40,720

he had multiple fractures in the pelvis, fractures in the left wrist, fractures in the left leg and multiple fractures in the jaw bones and also multiple fractures in the ribs.

19

00:02:41,720 --> 00:02:48,840

20

00:02:48,840 --> 00:02:56,480

I was so shocked that I couldn't recognise it as my husband. I looked at this person lying on the bed and I thought no, no, that's not my husband. Doesn't look anything like him. We have this life support machine breathing.

21

00:02:56,480 --> 00:03:01,400

22

00:03:01,400 --> 00:03:04,720

23

00:03:04,720 --> 00:03:15,720

I think we'll have to get the horsepade out there.

24

00:03:15,720 --> 00:03:20,800

Ron Bell had already survived two heart attacks. After the second one he had to give up work and became virtually housebound. Upset and frustrated he became impossible for his family

25

00:03:20,800 --> 00:03:26,600

26

00:03:26,600 --> 00:03:27,600 to live with.

27

00:03:27,600 --> 00:03:35,880

So I sort of decided to split up. We split up and I took two of the children and left two with him.

28

00:03:35,880 --> 00:03:36,880

29

00:03:36,880 --> 00:03:44,960

The situation with my parents, my mum, split up with my mum at the time, coping with looking after me. I think a lot of things had got him down, he was quite depressed.

30

00:03:44,960 --> 00:03:51,280

31

00:03:51,280 --> 00:03:55,600

But Ron's health was improving. One of his sons was about to get married and he'd begun

32

00:03:55,600 --> 00:04:00,840

to get out and about again. One evening he set off for a walk at Old Hartley on the Tyneside coast, a favourite spot of his. A friend dropped him off.

33

00:04:00,840 --> 00:04:04,600

34

00:04:04,600 --> 00:04:09,600

Are you sure you're going to be alright?

35

00:04:09,600 --> 00:04:13,600

Yeah, I'll be alright. I'll have a good walk. I'll see you later.

36

00:04:13,600 --> 00:04:19,600

I went down to Hartley because it's a peaceful place, it's a lovely place. I needed time to think, to sort things out. It's a place where I was go and I just like it. It's my place. I was feeling really good. I was walking along the Kryftob path and it was a cool night.

37

00:04:19,600 --> 00:04:28,600

38

00:04:28,600 --> 00:04:40,600

39

00:04:40,600 --> 00:04:47,600

I could hear the waves beating on the rocks below. And I got this excruciating pain come from my chest. Having had two heart attacks before I realised I was probably taking a heart attack.

40

00:04:47,600 --> 00:04:56,600

41

00:04:56,600 --> 00:05:01,600

And it just pulled me over and I found myself over the cliff edge.

42

00:05:01,600 --> 00:05:21,600

The cliffs at Old Hartley are a sheer drop of 60 feet. There is no fence, nothing to save

43

00:05:21,600 --> 00:05:28,600

Ron. The coastline here is fairly dangerous. The cliff is unstable. Anyone getting too close to the cliff edge has taken a chance that the edge will crumble. Clearly falling from that

44

00:05:28,600 --> 00:05:33,600

45

00:05:33,600 --> 00:05:37,600

height, anybody surviving would have to count themselves fairly lucky.

46

00:05:37,600 --> 00:05:43,600

Ron was one of the lucky ones. Though he bounced on the rocks several times and suffered a pauling injury, he was still alive. But only just.

47

00:05:43,600 --> 00:05:47,600

48

00:05:47,600 --> 00:05:57,600

I was in the sea and I couldn't move. Nothing would move. So I must have lost consciousness and when I came to I was further out to sea. And I thought I was probably going to die.

49

00:05:57,600 --> 00:06:05,600

50

00:06:05,600 --> 00:06:16,600

And I called out my wife's name and my children's name and just want to resign myself to wait.

51

00:06:16,600 --> 00:06:23,600

Suddenly I felt warm and at peace. Then it just seemed to happen.

52

00:06:23,600 --> 00:06:30,600

I found myself in this tunnel with a very bright light at the end of it and I was walking towards it.

53

00:06:34,600 --> 00:06:43,600

At the end of the tunnel when I arrived there, there was a bridge. At the far end there was human shapes, shadows and I said, I'm coming across.

54

00:06:43,600 --> 00:06:49,600

55

00:06:49,600 --> 00:06:55,600

The arms were back in the middle and the voice in my head said, you can't cross the bridge.

56

00:06:55,600 --> 00:07:02,600

It's not your time yet. Then suddenly I was rushing backwards away from the bridge, away from the shadows.

57

00:07:02,600 --> 00:07:08,600

It wasn't until the next morning that a passerby walking his dog on a beach found Ron in shallow water. He called an ambulance.

58

00:07:08,600 --> 00:07:11,600

59

00:07:11,600 --> 00:07:19,600

My pythomere is the danger. That time of year when the sea temperature is about 6 or 7 degrees celsius,

60

00:07:19,600 --> 00:07:24,600

half an hour is a good survival time and the average person probably wouldn't survive much more than two and a half hours in the water.

61

00:07:24,600 --> 00:07:27,600

62

00:07:29,600 --> 00:07:36,600

Ron was in the water for 14 hours but amazingly when the ambulance proved God to him, it was a glimmer of life.

63

00:07:37,600 --> 00:07:39,600

Breathing.

64

00:07:44,600 --> 00:07:51,600

When he arrived at the hospital, Ron was clearly in a critical condition, made even more serious by his medical history.

65

00:07:51,600 --> 00:08:01,600

He had heart attack in the past and he was in extremely poor state. He had extensive injuries practically in the whole body. His chances of survival was pretty poor and similarly the chances for leading a normal life was

66

00:08:01,600 --> 00:08:12,600

67

00:08:12,600 --> 00:08:15,600

extremely poor as well.

68

00:08:16,600 --> 00:08:24,600

But had Ron Bell really been at death's door, did he literally come back to life and if he did, what did he go through?

69

00:08:25,600 --> 00:08:31,600

Dr Peter Fennick of the Institute of Psychiatry studies altered states of consciousness in the brain.

70

00:08:31,600 --> 00:08:37,600

Ron Bell's case is one of 400 near death experiences or NDE's which he's collected.

71

00:08:38,600 --> 00:08:46,600

Do people make up stories about NDE's? No I don't think they do. My reason for saying this is that there is a very clear set of features. If you haven't had the experience, it's very difficult to get it right.

72

00:08:46,600 --> 00:08:50,600

73

00:08:51,600 --> 00:08:56,600

Dr Fennick argues that because the accounts of Ron Bell and others are so similar, they must be real.

74

00:08:56,600 --> 00:09:04,600

But Dr Susan Blackmore of the West of England University disagrees. She's been investigating near death experiences for 20 years after having won herself.

75

00:09:04,600 --> 00:09:06,600

76

00:09:06,600 --> 00:09:11,600

I'm convinced that it isn't because we all go to another world, but it's because of what's happening in the brain.

77

00:09:11,600 --> 00:09:16,600

Because near death or under stress there's kind of random firing of all the cells going on in the brain.

78

00:09:16,600 --> 00:09:23,600

It could be lack of oxygen which disturbs the balance of firing or it could be the brain's own morphine-like chemicals that is experienced as lights, tunnels, hallucinations and feelings of presence.

79

00:09:23,600 --> 00:09:28,600

80

00:09:28,600 --> 00:09:36,600

So I now believe not that the experiences are all the same because we all have a soul or spirit that goes to heaven,

81

00:09:36,600 --> 00:09:39,600

but they're all the same because we all have similar brains.

82

00:09:39,600 --> 00:09:46,600

So the imagination of a dying brain or as Dr Fennick believes, the mind leaving the body to go elsewhere.

83

00:09:47,600 --> 00:09:54,600

It's that the brain isn't functioning. It's not there. It's destroyed. It's abnormal.

84

00:09:54,600 --> 00:09:58,600

But yet it can produce these very clear experiences.

85

00:09:58,600 --> 00:10:03,600

I thought, I died. I honestly thought I died.

86

00:10:10,600 --> 00:10:13,600

Thank God you're back.

87

00:10:13,600 --> 00:10:19,600

Ron's nurse hadn't expected him to recover. When he did she remembers clearly what he described to her.

88

00:10:19,600 --> 00:10:28,600

I was very pleased and surprised that he'd recovered. He told me of a dream that he'd had about the tunnel and the shapes and the light.

89

00:10:28,600 --> 00:10:30,600

And he was going towards it.

90

00:10:31,600 --> 00:10:39,600

It's very convincing and other patients have told me of the same dream and experience they've had when they've been in that state.

91

00:10:39,600 --> 00:10:45,600

As Ron Bell was to discover, there's something else which those who claim near-death experiences usually find.

92

00:10:45,600 --> 00:10:51,600

Most people lose their fear of death. A lot of people feel that they have a mission that they have to go through.

93

00:10:51,600 --> 00:10:56,600

There's something for them to do in this life. And many people are more social.

94

00:10:56,600 --> 00:10:59,600

That is, they think more about their friends.

95

00:10:59,600 --> 00:11:06,600

My father was probably quite a selfish person. Rather inconsiderate.

96

00:11:06,600 --> 00:11:10,600

He never had a great deal of time for us when we were children.

97

00:11:10,600 --> 00:11:18,600

He was around but never for us. Since the accident I think he's definitely become more responsible towards his family.

98

00:11:18,600 --> 00:11:25,600

The experience also brought about a reconciliation with his wife. They decided to give their marriage another try.

99

00:11:25,600 --> 00:11:31,600

Ron's son Robert got married too. After the ceremony the couple visited him in hospital.

100

00:11:31,600 --> 00:11:39,600

I think he's got more of a sanctity for life. He's got more of a...what would you say? A zest for life really.

101

00:11:39,600 --> 00:11:42,600

He's got more of a caring person than he was.

102

00:11:42,600 --> 00:11:49,600

I realised I'd been given another chance. But if I was to die tomorrow, I would not be afraid.

103

00:11:49,600 --> 00:11:57,600

I'm not afraid of death. This is where we all go eventually. I know because I've been there.

104

00:12:02,600 --> 00:12:10,600

Near-death experiences are being taken so seriously that tests are now being carried out in the cardiac units of hospitals around southern England.

105

00:12:10,600 --> 00:12:17,600

Objects are being hidden high out of patients' view. And if those who've been near-death can later describe the objects,

106

00:12:17,600 --> 00:12:20,600

it follows they must have left their bodies.

107

00:12:28,600 --> 00:12:36,600

It lasted for decades. It became a national legend. And investigating it was the case of a lifetime for Harry Price,

108

00:12:36,600 --> 00:12:41,600

Ghostbuster Supreme. Bollie Rectory in the tiny East Anglian hamlet whose name it bears,

109

00:12:41,600 --> 00:12:48,600

was once known as the most haunted house in England. Many people, five successive rectors, their wives and families,

110

00:12:48,600 --> 00:12:54,600

neighbours and visitors all apparently saw things there. And the legend lives on.

111

00:12:54,600 --> 00:13:01,600

I've been involved with Bollie for over 40 years, 27 years as editor of the local paper.

112

00:13:01,600 --> 00:13:08,600

And in every year of those 40 years, something has been reported as happening at Bollie.

113

00:13:08,600 --> 00:13:14,600

There's nothing there. There's no shop. There's no pub. In fact, the last place that you'd expect to see a streaming business.

114

00:13:14,600 --> 00:13:20,600

So how and why has the quiet of the English countryside been so disrupted?

115

00:13:20,600 --> 00:13:32,600

Ever since Bollie Rectory was built in 1863, reports have abounded of strange whispering, a ghostly presence and mysterious so-called accidents.

116

00:13:33,600 --> 00:13:42,600

It all began with the daughters of the first vicar and a truly haunting vision.

117

00:13:42,600 --> 00:13:49,600

At the end of the garden, they saw a figure, its head bowed as if in prayer.

118

00:13:49,600 --> 00:13:55,600

One of the sisters stepped forward, but as she did, it seemed to vanish into thin air.

119

00:13:55,600 --> 00:14:01,600

Peter Underwood, who's been investigating Bollie for 40 years, recalls meeting the sisters.

120

00:14:01,600 --> 00:14:14,600

They were much-travelled and intelligent and educated people. They weren't fools, and they certainly wouldn't allow themselves to make stories up to impress other people.

121

00:14:14,600 --> 00:14:19,600

The legend established claims continued of strange happenings at Bollie Rectory.

122

00:14:19,600 --> 00:14:24,600

Two decades later, it was the turn of the reverend Eric Smith and his wife.

123

00:14:24,600 --> 00:14:30,600

They described more voices, footsteps and servant bells ringing of their own accord.

124

00:14:31,600 --> 00:14:39,600

Then, while tidying and cupboard, Mrs Smith made a gruesome discovery, wrapped in brown paper, a skull.

125

00:14:39,600 --> 00:14:44,600

Beginning to doubt their sanity, the Smiths asked a national newspaper to investigate.

126

00:14:44,600 --> 00:14:50,600

This story could run and run. It seems everyone around here has seen or heard of something.

127

00:14:50,600 --> 00:14:55,600

Harry Price. You mean the psychic expert?

128

00:14:55,600 --> 00:15:00,600

The newspaper called in the ghostbusting services of Harry Price.

129

00:15:00,600 --> 00:15:04,600

The reverend Smith and Mrs Smith.

130

00:15:04,600 --> 00:15:14,600

Harry was a former engineer who's married to a rich wife meant he could spend his time and her money delving into the paranormal.

131

00:15:14,600 --> 00:15:24,600

Mostly, he set out to expose psychic frauds. But were the events the Smiths described a fraud?

132

00:15:24,600 --> 00:15:29,600

And you see, you cut the wires and the bells still ring.

133

00:15:29,600 --> 00:15:35,600

If he had any doubts about Bollie, Harry Price soon experienced strange events at first hand.

134

00:15:35,600 --> 00:15:37,600

Did you see that?

135

00:15:37,600 --> 00:15:39,600

It came from upstairs, but there's no one there.

136

00:15:39,600 --> 00:15:43,600

Harry and the reporter had a narrow escape from a flying candlestick.

137

00:15:43,600 --> 00:15:46,600

But there was something of the showman in Harry Price too.

138

00:15:46,600 --> 00:15:49,600

He left his paranormal collection to London University.

139

00:15:49,600 --> 00:15:53,600

Alan Wesemcraft, who looks after it, met the man himself.

140

00:15:53,600 --> 00:15:59,600

I think Harry Price's enthusiasm did lead him into making exaggerated claims.

141

00:15:59,600 --> 00:16:04,600

He's had a fertile imagination and this would take charge, I suppose.

142

00:16:04,600 --> 00:16:10,600

Harry Price told his story to the world, but the Smiths had had enough. They moved out.

143

00:16:10,600 --> 00:16:14,600

Several vickers turned down the job before a new one could be found.

144

00:16:14,600 --> 00:16:19,600

The reverend Lionel Algernon Feuster was old enough to be the father of his wife, Marianne.

145

00:16:19,600 --> 00:16:22,600

Lovely day and the lavender looks beautiful.

146

00:16:22,600 --> 00:16:25,600

Yes, it is a nice day, isn't it?

147

00:16:25,600 --> 00:16:28,600

Quite quiet around here after London, though, don't you find?

148

00:16:28,600 --> 00:16:33,600

Life in this backwater was hardly her style, but the paranormal events were.

149

00:16:33,600 --> 00:16:38,600

The poor girl really craved something a little bit more exciting.

150

00:16:38,600 --> 00:16:45,600

And she found excitement, I think, by playing up the idea of the horns.

151

00:16:47,600 --> 00:16:49,600

Lionel, look at this.

152

00:16:49,600 --> 00:16:50,600

What is it?

153

00:16:50,600 --> 00:16:55,600

Pebbles under my pillow. How dirty they get there. You must write this up in your diary.

154

00:16:55,600 --> 00:17:00,600

Suspensions that the old vicker was fooled by his wife might have been justified.

155

00:17:00,600 --> 00:17:05,600

First my collar, which I'd taken off for comfort, is thrown at me.

156

00:17:05,600 --> 00:17:11,600

Then a stick and a piece of coal thrown across the room.

157

00:17:11,600 --> 00:17:15,600

But what about the testimony of independent witnesses?

158

00:17:15,600 --> 00:17:21,600

A local headmaster and magistrate, Gaila Strange, wrote about taking tea with the foisters.

159

00:17:21,600 --> 00:17:26,600

The other day, the servants' bells started to ring all on their own.

160

00:17:26,600 --> 00:17:27,600

What was that?

161

00:17:27,600 --> 00:17:33,600

Jumping up, I hurried to the door and found the floor outside littered with broken crockery.

162

00:17:33,600 --> 00:17:36,600

It's starting to happen all over again.

163

00:17:36,600 --> 00:17:38,600

Mary!

164

00:17:38,600 --> 00:17:41,600

Yes, will you see, you can never tell what's going to happen in this house.

165

00:17:42,600 --> 00:17:45,600

Still a sharp tea while our cups are still intact.

166

00:17:45,600 --> 00:17:48,600

Still not fully convinced, the magistrate returned to his seat.

167

00:17:48,600 --> 00:17:50,600

No sooner had he done so.

168

00:17:50,600 --> 00:17:55,600

An appalling series of crashes took us back to the doorway.

169

00:17:55,600 --> 00:18:00,600

And this time Gaila Strange couldn't believe his eyes.

170

00:18:00,600 --> 00:18:06,600

Bottles were being hurled about in all directions in the hall, though nobody could be seen throwing them.

171

00:18:07,600 --> 00:18:10,600

Good God!

172

00:18:10,600 --> 00:18:14,600

When the foisters left, Harry Price's big moment arrived.

173

00:18:14,600 --> 00:18:20,600

He took a year's lease on the rectory and moved in.

174

00:18:27,600 --> 00:18:34,600

He placed an advertisement in the Times, inviting people of leisure and intellect to assist in his investigation.

175

00:18:35,600 --> 00:18:41,600

Charles Wintour, later a distinguished newspaper editor, was one of those who took up the invitation.

176

00:18:43,600 --> 00:18:46,600

I went to the board of rectory with an entirely open mind.

177

00:18:46,600 --> 00:18:48,600

I was just curious what was happening there.

178

00:18:48,600 --> 00:18:52,600

I was convinced that Harry Price was egging it up a bit.

179

00:18:52,600 --> 00:18:55,600

There was something occurring, but he was making it more so.

180

00:18:55,600 --> 00:18:57,600

I'll get a proposition.

181

00:18:57,600 --> 00:18:58,600

Let's have a look in here.

182

00:18:58,600 --> 00:19:01,600

Yes, this looks interesting. I think you can seal this one up.

183

00:19:02,600 --> 00:19:06,600

In order to make certain that nobody was interfering with the house,

184

00:19:06,600 --> 00:19:13,600

we would place cotton thread across the doors and across the passages so that nobody could sneak up.

185

00:19:22,600 --> 00:19:25,600

When they returned, they found the seals intact.

186

00:19:25,600 --> 00:19:30,600

But on inspecting the rooms, Charles Wintour and his friend found marks had appeared.

187

00:19:31,600 --> 00:19:35,600

On the walls, scratches and indecipherable messages.

188

00:19:37,600 --> 00:19:41,600

On one occasion, I thought one of the pencil marks was actually moving as I saw it.

189

00:19:41,600 --> 00:19:45,600

It seemed mad, but I think that's what I saw at the time.

190

00:19:45,600 --> 00:19:48,600

Harry Price reaped the rewards of his research.

191

00:19:48,600 --> 00:19:51,600

His findings were published in best-selling books.

192

00:19:51,600 --> 00:19:55,600

BALL ERECTORY became famous as the most haunted house in England.

193

00:19:55,600 --> 00:19:58,600

Until one night, there was a fire.

194

00:20:02,600 --> 00:20:05,600

The rectory was reduced to a ruin.

195

00:20:05,600 --> 00:20:08,600

Arson was suspected but could never be proved.

196

00:20:08,600 --> 00:20:12,600

With the rectory gone, the haunting was thought to be over.

197

00:20:12,600 --> 00:20:17,600

In any case, for many, Harry Price's exaggerations and Marianne Foistar's confessions,

198

00:20:17,600 --> 00:20:21,600

made to investigators like Peter Underwood, had discredited the story.

199

00:20:21,600 --> 00:20:24,600

But was there still more to it?

200

00:20:25,600 --> 00:20:28,600

There were things going on at BALL ERECTORY long before Marianne wasn't there.

201

00:20:28,600 --> 00:20:32,600

There were things going on at BALL ERECTORY long before Harry Price went there.

202

00:20:32,600 --> 00:20:36,600

And there were things happening at BALL ERECTORY long after Marianne left

203

00:20:36,600 --> 00:20:39,600

and long after Harry Price was dead.

204

00:20:39,600 --> 00:20:43,600

The new vicar buried bones found during the rectory demolition

205

00:20:43,600 --> 00:20:47,600

and began to claim new happenings across the road at BALL ERECTORY church itself.

206

00:20:47,600 --> 00:20:52,600

He was the one more than anyone else who moved the ghost from one side of the road to the other.

207

00:20:52,600 --> 00:20:57,600

He was the man who said, you know, that strange things are happening in my church.

208

00:20:57,600 --> 00:21:00,600

I've seen things in my church. I've heard things in my church.

209

00:21:00,600 --> 00:21:05,600

And because he was the vicar or the rector, people believed him.

210

00:21:05,600 --> 00:21:09,600

It's in the medieval church that Ron Russell and other psychic investigators

211

00:21:09,600 --> 00:21:12,600

have continued Harry Price's work.

212

00:21:12,600 --> 00:21:16,600

One night, he and a small team set up tape recorders there.

213

00:21:16,600 --> 00:21:25,600

MUSIC

214

00:21:25,600 --> 00:21:32,600

To our surprise, we received a series of strange, unaccountable noises on the tapes.

215

00:21:32,600 --> 00:21:38,600

MUSIC

216

00:21:38,600 --> 00:21:42,600

I've no doubt in my own mind that these sounds were paranormal.

217

00:21:42,600 --> 00:21:45,600

And the stories of unexplained incidents continue.

218

00:21:45,600 --> 00:21:51,600

I just heard what sounded like an organ playing from inside the church.

219

00:21:51,600 --> 00:21:55,600

But as we went in the church, it suddenly stopped.

220

00:21:55,600 --> 00:21:59,600

To our utter amazement, there was not a soul in the church.

221

00:21:59,600 --> 00:22:02,600

The organ console was closed and padlocked.

222

00:22:02,600 --> 00:22:06,600

Once we were inside the church, we carried on looking round.

223

00:22:06,600 --> 00:22:11,600

When I was aware of the sound of pebbles falling down on the ground,

224

00:22:12,600 --> 00:22:17,600

I looked, but I couldn't actually see any pebbles.

225

00:22:17,600 --> 00:22:20,600

Like all the other claims surrounding Borley over the years,

226

00:22:20,600 --> 00:22:23,600

there is an explanation, but an incomplete one.

227

00:22:23,600 --> 00:22:27,600

Some local boys confessed that they'd been hiding in the church.

228

00:22:27,600 --> 00:22:30,600

One had pumped the organ up and the other had played a few bars

229

00:22:30,600 --> 00:22:32,600

and they'd then died behind the pears.

230

00:22:32,600 --> 00:22:36,600

Since then, in recent times, the church has been locked

231

00:22:36,600 --> 00:22:39,600

and still people are saying they're hearing the organ.

232

00:22:39,600 --> 00:22:42,600

What do you make of that?

233

00:22:42,600 --> 00:22:46,600

Harry Price died nine years after Borley Rectory was destroyed.

234

00:22:46,600 --> 00:22:50,600

Almost immediately, books were published tearing his work to shreds.

235

00:22:50,600 --> 00:22:52,600

But expert opinion is divided.

236

00:22:52,600 --> 00:22:56,600

Though they agree his claims were exaggerated, many still back him.

237

00:22:56,600 --> 00:23:00,600

And to this day, a special library is dedicated to him at London University.

238

00:23:00,600 --> 00:23:04,600

And of course, Harry, wherever he is now, can't be accused of interfering

239

00:23:04,600 --> 00:23:06,600

in events since his death.

240

00:23:06,600 --> 00:23:09,600

At least not if he's sitting in one of these.

241

00:23:09,600 --> 00:23:11,600

Good night.
