CORRECTION:

In this episode I incorrectly stated that David Fravor took the TicTac video. That is not true. He was present for the incident and saw the craft, but the video was not taken by him.

2023 06 29	The UFO Rabbit Hole Podcast	https://youtu.be/0gcp7mllbk0	An Interview with Nathan Disclosure, Ontological Shock, and What's Next	In this episode, I wanted to do something a little different. As the community continues to metabolize the stunning allegations by high-level intelligence official turned UFO whistleblower, David Grusch, and with more people waking up to the significance of this story everyday—the thing I’m hearing the most is just that people want to talk. We want to connect about this. If there’s anything that I’ve learned over the past few years it’s that this process of dismantling our consensus reality and coming to grips with a new one that shakes the foundations of every paradigm we have is a team sport. We’re meant to do these things in community. Two weeks ago, I had the opportunity to spend the weekend with a bunch of really bright, like-minded people that I’ve met through doing this work, and it was honestly magical. We’ve come a long way in this conversation with the public-at-large, but for most of us who have a deep interest in this topic, we still find ourselves censoring and compartmentalizing to protect ourselves from the stigma we might face for simply considering these ideas. And so being able to gather with a group of people and let down those walls and give voice to the thoughts and hopes and anxieties that emerge when you’re coming to terms with the realities of a highly advanced, non-human presence on this planet can be a massive relief. It’s healing and I’d argue that it’s necessary. But I know how rare those moments are, and I know that there are so many people who are more than ready to have those conversations, but who still haven’t found a safe place for that. And	Transcript Link
2023 06 22	The UFO Rabbit Hole Podcast	https://youtu.be/yryV6kwo7AA	An Interview with Michael Masters The Extraterrestrial Model & The Future Human Past	Today, we’re circling back to an idea that we visited in one of the earliest episodes of the podcast—the extraterrestrial model. Sometimes also referred to as the future human hypothesis, the extraterrestrial model is the idea that the UFOs phenomenon might represent advanced humans and human descendents who are traveling here from another point in time. I’ll admit to struggling with this idea at first. Time travel has always seemed a little too clunky and a little too hokey to be taken seriously. But as so often happens on this trip down the rabbit hole, the more I learned and the more my perspective began to swell and shift to accommodate the strange new realities I was exploring, the more what once seemed like a kind of crazy idea to me suddenly started to make a heck of a lot of sense. And I found that many of my objections had more to do with the limitations of my knowledge than the limitations of the extraterrestrial model. So I wanted to come back around to this idea, because there is a lot there to dig into, most of which didn’t make it into the initial episode. And there are some new and updated ideas that I think are really valuable in understanding the complexities of the phenomenon. And there’s no better way to take a deep dive into this topic than with one of the people who literally wrote the book on the extraterrestrial model—Dr. Michael P. Masters. Michael Masters is a professor of biological anthropology at Montana Technological University. He specializes in human	Transcript Link

Information that significantly challenges your worldview can be hard to process. In light of UFO whistleblower David Grusch's recent allegations—that the US government is in possession of non-human craft and bodies—even those within the community who thought that they were ready for these kinds of revelations have found themselves reeling. In this episode, we discuss ontological shock—what it is, how to cope with it, and how to avoid the major pitfalls. And we work on beginning to resolve our ontological shock but getting ourselves reoriented in a world where nothing is as we once thought it was. No matter where you are in your journey, I hope this episode offers you something that you can take for the road. And if you know people who are just starting out, or who are finding themselves feeling disoriented right now in ways they can't identify, this is a great episode to share with them. GET THE EPISODE BRIEF  https://uforabbithole.com/podcast/the-disclosure-field-guide-pt-1-ontological-shock-getting-reoriented/ GET THE BOOK  Get a SIGNED COPY: https://uforabbithole.store  Get it on Amazon: https://a.co/d/64OSUTa	Transcript Link

This whistleblower, David Charles Rusch, is a high-level member of the intelligence community, and he is claiming to have knowledge of special access programs that have recovered non-human technological craft. Later that same day, an excerpt from an interview with the whistleblower conducted by investigative journalist, Ross Coulthart, was aired on NewsNation in which Rusch made even more shocking claims—including the allegation that the US has also recovered the bodies of the non-human pilots of these craft. In this episode we do a deep dive into this story, doing our best to frame it within the great context of the disclosure movement, and ask the question: what does all this mean? And can what David Grusch is saying really be true? GET THE EPISODE BRIEF  https://uforabbithole.com/podcast/whistleblower-david-grusch-reveals-existence-of-secret-ufo-crash-retrieval-program/ GET THE BOOK  Get a SIGNED COPY: uforabbithole.store  Get it on Amazon: a.co/d/64OSUTa	Transcript Link

As I'm sure you'll recall, Jim joined us a couple of months ago for a discussion about Plato's Cave. We also discussed some of his latest work applying the philosophical concept of the umwelt to the UFO phenomenon. And I was really excited to see that that episode has become one of the most listened to episodes of the podcasts, because it's definitely one of my favorites. If you haven't listened to that episode yet, I highly recommend that you go back to that one first. Jim's work builds on itself, and it will be helpful to lay down the foundation with that episode before moving onto this one. In this episode, we'll be moving on to Dr. Madden's latest work. Over the last few months, in a flurry of articles released through his Substack, Jim has laid out a series of arguments as to the nature of the UFO phenomenon that are, frankly, mind blowing. It's not overstating things to say that what Jim has done is to essentially break ufology—and I mean that in the best possible way. Because, in many ways, it's been clear to anyone who is really paying attention that the traditional models and ontologies that have dominated modern ufology have needed to break. We began this podcast talking about what the UFO phenomenon might be, and we did a deep dive into the primary hypotheses including extraterrestrial, ultraterrestrial, interdimensional, extraterrestrial, etc. And all of those models are really useful for helping us to push our thinking about what the intelligence behind UFOs may represent. But if we're being really honest with ourselves, we have	Transcript Link

A few weeks ago, Dr. Diana Walsh Pasulka reached out to connect me with someone she thought I might be interested in interviewing for the podcast. Her name is Dr. Iya Whiteley and she is a space psychologist who is featured in Diana's upcoming book due out in November entitled, Encounters: Experiences with Nonhuman Intelligences. Given the respect that I have for Diana and her work, her recommendation alone would have been enough for me to say yes. But the more she shared with me about Dr. Whiteley and her work, it became clear to me that this was an interview that I absolutely had to do. This conversation touched me deeply, and I hope it speaks to you the way that it spoke to me. MEET DR. As predicted, 2023 has already been a massive year for the UFO disclosure movement. As we seemingly gain momentum, and with a fresh round of congressional hearings on UAPs potentially just around the corner, this felt like the perfect moment to dive into the progress made so far.

And there's no one better for this conversation than Christopher Sharp of the Liberation Times. Chris is an independent journalist hailing from the UK who has consistently been beating the mainstream media to the punch on some of the biggest stories related to UFO disclosure. The nuance and deep investigation that he brings to his work is one of the very few beacons of true journalism in this field. Beyond his work with the Liberation Times, Chris also regularly writes for the Daily Mail.

In this episode Chris shares:

- 👂 What he's hearing from his sources about the origins of the mysterious objects shot down in Feb
- 👂 The surprising source for the push for disclosure
- 👂 What we can expect from upcoming Congressional UFO hearings (and when those might happen)

In this episode, I talk to Thomas J. Carey, the co-author of UFO Secrets Inside Wright-Patterson. Along with his co-author, Donald R. Schmitt, Carey has spent over 30 years investigating the Roswell incident and tracing the trail of the materials and bodies that were recovered there all the way to Wright-Patterson Air Force Base and beyond. They have published a dozen books on the subject (links below).

It's in this episode that we reach a decisive inflection point. Nothing will be the same after this—maybe not even you.	Transcript Link
				Over the previous 18 episodes, I have done my best to make the case, not only that the UFO phenomenon is real, but that the complexity, ubiquity, and unintelligibility of the phenomenon are so great as to suggest that many of our most fundamental assumptions about the nature of reality itself may be incorrect.
				This episode is my closing argument in the case of The Phenomenon vs. Consensus Reality. And when it's done, I hope that you'll agree with me that it's time to burn it all down. Or at the very least, I hope you'll agree that perhaps it's time to consider some new models of reality that have the potential to reintroduce meaning and intelligibility into our broken world where impossible things won't stop happening.
				In this episode, we'll begin by talking about what's broken with our current models including the Big Bang, the hard problem of consciousness, quantum mechanics, and space-time. And we begin to ask, what do our broken models suggest about the nature of the cave that we find ourselves in? And what does all of this have to do with UFOs?

2023 02 09 The UFO Rabbit Hole Podcast <https://youtu.be/Xbxx5m9FbHs> Ep 18 An Interview with Dr. James Madden Philosophy & UFOs In this episode, I'm bringing you an interview with Dr. James Madden, professor of philosophy at Benedictine University. He is a martial artist, fitness coach, and philosopher with particular interest in the philosophy of mind, aesthetics, philosophy of religion, Aristotelianism, and phenomenology. Transcript Link

If you'll recall from the last episode, Diana mentioned Dr. Madden as someone who shared her "spooky" interpretation of the Cave. I first met Jim when he was a speaker in one of Diana's classes over the summer on this subject, and I really enjoyed learning from him. He has a really coherent way of placing the Cave within its proper context both within Plato's Republic and within its historical context that opens up these ideas in inspiring and challenging ways.

So that's where we'll start, with an hour-long deep dive into Plato's Cave, and what it implies for the nature of both reality and the UFO phenomenon. And then in the second half of the interview, we'll turn to Dr. Madden's latest philosophical work with regard to the phenomenon including what Heidegger reveals to us about the life and work of Godfather of Modern Ufology, Jaques Vallee, what Aristotle's natural theology suggests about the potential nature of non-human intelligence, and how that work is being continued in the modern day by Dr. Jeffrey Kripal of Rice University. And finally, we'll explore Dr. Madden's fascinating hypothesis for the origins of the UFO phenomenon through the concept of the "umwelt".

I hope you all enjoy this conversation as much as I enjoyed having it.

2023 01 20	The UFO Rabbit Hole Podcast	https://youtu.be/cqxTdDdrjGU	Ep 16 The Sky Calls To Us The Occult Origins Of The Space Race	In this episode, we're discussing one of the most profound transitions in human history—that of our evolution from a terrestrial species to a spacefaring one. And as we examine the history and origins of the space programs in both the United States and the Soviet Union, we discover one of the most remarkable and baffling stories ever told, hiding in plain sight. To put it simply, many of the fathers of modern space flight were occultists who believed themselves to be in direct communication with non-human intelligences who were helping to guide their work. While their claims sound too extraordinary to even be considered, the startling breadth and innovation of the work that they claim sprang for this paranormal communication makes it difficult not to wonder if perhaps there might have been something to those claims. We'll discuss the work of Jack Parsons, an intrepid young rocket scientist and occultist who palled around with the likes of Aleister Crowley, L. Ron Hubbard, and Howard Hughes, whose remarkable life was cut short by his mysterious death at 37. I'm your host, Kelly Chase. Today we turn our attention to our nearest neighbor, and the anchor for some of those most compelling and mysterious stories in the UFO lore—the Moon. Hanging serenely in the night sky, its face unchanging aside from the precise pendulum swing of the lunar cycle, the Moon is our constant companion. It's the one heavenly body that we can easily observe with the naked eye, and as such it feels deeply familiar to us. But what if there is more to the Moon than we ever realized? It's an unnerving thought to consider that the Moon as we know it might not be what we think it is at all. But that's exactly what the deep UFO lore surrounding the Moon suggests. In this episode we'll discuss theories for the origins of the Moon (including the theory that it might be an alien superstructure), the mysteries surrounding the Apollo missions and the moon landing, what some of the top astronauts from the early space program have said about the Moon, and we'll even tell a story about Neil Armstrong that I, frankly, straight up didn't believe the first time I heard it. This episode was a fun one to write, because the Moon is weird AF.	Transcript Link

				Rumors have abounded for decades that, after WWII, what remained of the Third Reich escaped to a sprawling secret base under the ice in Antarctica—the mythical Station 211. But could this story be more than a mere wartime legend?
				In 1947, the largest military operation since the end of the war embarked from the United States to Antarctica, allegedly on a scientific expedition. But could Operation Highjump, lead by famed explorer and America hero, Admiral Richard E. Byrd, have had another mission? Could they have been in search of the fabled Nazi base?
				What they found in Antarctica has been a matter of much debate, with some saying that they encountered secret Nazi technology—including the infamous flying saucer—and still others claim that Admiral Byrd made contact with a super advanced race of humanoids from Hollow Earth.
				Could any of this possibly be true? We'll investigate and find out.

				In 1938, Nazi Germany made an expedition to Antarctica where they claimed territory. What could have compelled them to make that investment of time and resources in the lead up to WWII? Were they looking for something? And could they have found it?
				After the war, rumors swirled that what remained of the Third Reich escaped to secret bases in Antarctica and from there the mystique only grew. Since then, a baroque mythology has sprung up around the southernmost continent, with each new twist and turn only adding to mystery.
				Today, we'll dive into some of the most popular—and bizarre—theories as to what the Nazis may have found in Antarctica—including the lost city of Atlantis, an unknown ancient culture from the distant past, secret alien bases, and more.

2022 06 30 The UFO Rabbit Hole Podcast <https://youtu.be/sMoRiv9z0> The Rabbit Hole Conversations Ep 4 Darren (AKA ExoAcademian) Point Of Convergence & Liminal Phrames EPISODE NOTES: 0

In this episode I sat down with the newly unveiled ExoAcademian, AKA Darren, host of the Point of Convergence podcast and co-host of the Liminal Phrames podcast (all links below). Darren's work is focused on consciousness, and specifically around the convergence of contact modalities used to engage the UFO phenomenon. His level-headed, academic approach to the exploration of consciousness, UFOs, and psi phenomena has made him an important voice in the UFO community.

I was particularly interested to talk to Darren about how his exploration of the phenomenon has shaped his beliefs and his path. In a recent interview on Engaging The Phenomenon (linked below), he talked about the synchronistic orchestration he experienced that brought new purpose and direction to his life. Many who pursue this line of inquiry find themselves undergoing this kind of profound transformation—myself included—and I was eager to get Darren's perspective on this intriguing aspect of the phenomenon.

We covered a wide-range of other topics including:

- Darren's recent involvement in an invitation-only HICE at The Monroe Institute with fellow researchers, contactees, and members of the military and intelligence communities
- How to recognize and experiment with your own psi abilities
- The hitchhiker effect

2022 05 19 The UFO Rabbit Hole Podcast <https://youtu.be/-r0hSwiHbsw> Ep 11 Nazis & UFOs [Pt 1] The Emergence Of UFO Lore Transcript Link

In part one of this 3-part series on the UFO lore connected to WWII and Nazi Germany, we begin by doing a deep dive into the emergence of UFO lore itself.

While there is a ton of UFO lore connected to WWII, what is largely considered to be the first modern UFO sighting didn't happen until 1947—2 years after the war ended. So to understand exactly what was going on during WWII, we need to first understand, not just how UFO lore first emerged, but how belief systems in general emerge and evolve over time.

We'll talk about the ontological complexity of the 20th century, the sequence of events in 1947 that shaped our modern understanding of the phenomenon, and dive deeper into the mystery surrounding the lore to ask some of the bigger questions. This includes one question that I never thought I'd ask, which is—could the emergence of UFO mythology be the seeds of a modern religion?

A massive shout out to Diana Walsh Pasulka for her incredible book, American Cosmic, which helped me look at the phenomenon in a whole new light and played a big role in shaping this episode.

In this conversation, I spoke with UFO YouTuber and researcher, Cristina Gomez. Cristina is the creative force behind the Shifting The Paradigm Youtube channel, and is undeniably one of the hardest working creators in the space. As a member of Gen Z, Cristina is passionate about bringing the UFO/UAP topic to a whole new generation, while her high-quality research allows those who have been studying these things for years to still enjoy her content while learning something new.

In this conversation we discuss the inexhaustible passion that drives Cristina in her work, her take on the current state of the disclosure movement, favorite cryptids, and much more. And for the first time, Cristina shares the story of conducting one of her very first interviews with Lou Elizondo and how they struck up a friendship.

We've talked through some of the most common explanations for what the UFO phenomenon might be, considering everything from secret human technology to future humans and from extraterrestrials to ultraterrestrials. We've also met some — though certainly not all of the main players in the current disclosure movement. Although we've covered a lot of ground, when it comes to understanding the full scope of the UFO phenomenon and its implications for humankind, we've barely scratched the surface. In this episode, we'll begin to tackle some of the most fundamental questions raised by the UFO phenomenon — starting with the question of whether the UFO phenomenon may have had an influence on our ancestors in the distant past. For many, this line of questioning brings to mind Ancient Aliens, and the ancient astronaut theory, but there are other equally startling and profound possibilities that are suggested by the evidence as well — including the idea that the story of human civilization is far longer and far more dazzling than we ever imagined. But before we can begin to truly tackle these questions, we need to spend some time talking about the epistemology of archeology —	Transcript Link

What are the original TTSA members (including Lou Elizondo, Chris Mellon, Jim Semivan, Hal Puthoff, and Steve Justice) doing now? In this episode we'll get an update. We'll also explore why it is, that despite his astonishing success and ultimate vindication that Tom Delonge continues to be a controversial figure in the UFO community. And finally, we'll get to the part that everyone has been waiting for — what does Tom Delonge believe about the UFO phenomenon? It's been confirmed that Delonge's advisors within the government weren't just real, but they are the very people who would know what secrets the government might be hiding about UFOs. So with this insider knowledge and guidance, one has to assume that what Delonge says publicly about his beliefs surrounding the phenomena has been shaped significantly by his exposure to and briefings by these individuals. Which is exactly why what Tom Delonge has to say about UFOs is so shocking. While researching the events and cast of characters around the infamous New York Times article and the leaked US Navy videos that confirmed the reality of the UFO phenomenon one unlikely figure stands out among the crowd of former CIA agents, aerospace executives, and other high-ranking officials — pop punk icon, Tom Delonge.

But the notorious UFO enthusiast and former Blink 182 frontman doesn't just make a cameo in this story — without him, there would likely have been no story to tell.

In part one of this story, we'll explore how Tom Delonge's early life and road to stardom set him on a collision course with this important moment in history, the shocking story of how he assembled his team for the To The Stars Academy of Arts & Sciences, and the pivotal role that he played in the events that led to the Pentagon's stunning admission that UFOs are, in fact, real.
