Another Nevada Magazine article mentioning the Groom Lake area. It is purely historical in nature, talking about the winter of 1937 and how a mining party was stranded in their car for several days on the dry lake bed of Groom Lake. Pretty neat photos of old stuff (car, telegram, bus). It also showed a small map of the rescue trail (rats - it's a current map, not an old original!). Page 16 of the February issue, "The Big Chill".
