

Rapid oxidation of high-energy chemicals—explosives, that is—is the theme of an irreverent and secret party held every summer in the Nevada outback. It's by invite only for 150 technically skilled individuals. Here's what you are missing.