1. "...tailoring the product accordingly": Paranormal shows like Sightings and Encounters are particularly vulnerable because they are under pressure to produce ghosts and aliens week after week. Come to them with any kind of filmable story, and they won't ask too many questions. Unsolved Mysteries we find to be the most reputable of the clan, because they also do murderers and missing treasure, and can skip the paranormal stuff until something respectable comes along.
