Dear fellow newsgroup members,

Let us take a moment to reflect on the mystique of Area 51. For many years it has been the subject of countless documentaries, articles, news reports and books. One incident has elevated this military base to the status of a legend. (The 1947 Roswell incident.) Speak to any conspiracy theorist or UFO investigator and Area 51 is always at the top of the list.

Let us face some hard facts: We will probably never know in our lifetimes what really occurred in Roswell New Mexico in 1947. It is one of those mysteries that we will always be part of the American mystique. Area 51 is a top secret testing ground and as such is governed by the military, and the modern military, since its birth in the U.S. is ruled by its own laws, not the laws by which we are bound to abide. As difficult as it may seem, we must except the fact that there are a great many things that we cannot know. Yes, we always here the excuse that certain things are a matter of national security, and I will be the first one to agree that that excuse is often abused, mainly for the fact that we the people of the U.S. would more than likely strongly disagree with what the military or government has done or is doing.

The truth is that we have enjoyed security within our borders. The truth is, the military has kept us safe from outside invaders, the military has devoted its essence and being to upholding the constitution of the U.S. and ensuring that we are able to enjoy the freedoms we have now.

The cold truth is that we, the people have elevated Area 51, Roswell New Mexico, the assassination of Kennedy and King to the level of legends in this country. We have all contributed to the frenzy over conspiracies, black projects and secret governments. We have given authors, reporters and dillusional people an outlet for their voices to be heard. As loud as they may yell we have yet to see definitive proof of their claims. As much as they point their fingers, they never seem to be pointing in the right direction. But yet we are hungry for more. Hungry for any shred of evidence, wether it be manufactured (alien autopsy) or misrepresentational to say to the powers that be, "We knew you were covering up, we knew you couldn't be trusted.."
