ANTIQUUE CARS FALLING FROM SKY IN WILMINGTON, DELAWARE!

From: Transitwiz@aol.com
Date: Wed, 5 Feb 1997 20:59:02 -0500 (EST)
Subject: Art Bell

I am writing in the hope that you can shed some light on a rather bizarre news item. Last evening on AB, there were at least two calls plus a news story telling of antique autos dropping from the sky in the Wilmington DE area. Is this another one of AB's leg pullers? Have there been other confirming reports?

MANHATTAN WHAT?

I'm fairly new to the list, and just wanted to say Hi to you all. BTW the 'Bill Cooper' comic relief was good - the guy gets better every time I read something of his (or not, as the case may be...)

Any way, Tom Meeks mentioned the 'Manhattan Project' in one of his postings - can anybody give me some more info on this ? I've heard about it in the past, but can't quite remember it. Did it have something to do with making a ship disappear ?

Keep up the good work guys.

[Yes, as a matter of fact, the Manhattan Project was all about making a lot of things disappear. -- GC]

Subject: Questions for a high school report

To whom may be reading this document.

My name is Derrick Baer a citizen of the United States of America. I am a student at Longmont high school. I am intrested in any information available an Area 51. I know most of it is probably CLASSIFIED but I am manly intrested in operations that took place in the years surrounding 1947. I am doing a research report on the unixplained and a lot of people think that their was a UFO stored at this resarch facility and I was hoping to put the record straight on your operations during the 1947 terror of unixplained sightings in the air.

Any information optained would be appresiated.

Sincerly

From: Phil & Pat Bartley <phil-pat@olsusa.com>
To: webmaster@ufomind.com
Subject: wackenhut

I was wondering if you are familiar with the Estero florida fire dept? The firemen, 13, I believe were fired with out notice and replaced with Wackenhut people. Isn't this an immoral, inhumane, crule and way to get a fire dept. on ones list of success? If more info is needed I will try to find out. please respond as to the proper info wanted????/

ERIK ON COOPER

Date: Fri, 7 Feb 1997 18:38:54 -0800 (PST)
To: area51@lists.best.com
From: "UFOMUSEUM/SF,CA" <ufobfmuseum@value.net>
Subject: Bill Cooper

To 51 list: Re Bill Cooper, be aware that it costs over $100 to file a lawsuit in federal district court, and that if a lawyer is used, it costs maybe $5000 to retain him to work for Bill. If it is done in pro per by Bill, it costs Bills many days travel and hassle.

To get what?

Be informed that under title 17, section 109 of the US Code, "Fair Use", you can reprint lots of material as long as it is not for sale, and if it is for research and/or educational purposes. The Area 51 list is dedicated to research and education, and charges no money. Right?

You can probably ignore Bill. Just don't sell his stuff. Not that you would want to....

Bill Cooper is his own worst nightmare. I once heard the "Cooper tape", of fifteen threatening answering machine tapes, left by Cooper on the machine of someone that he felt owed him some papers back, or something. All Bull and Empty Threats.

Forget not that he has only one leg.

Erik B.
