Subject: Area 51 on The Simpsons

I was watching The Simpsons on Friday evening and the episode had a few references remarkably similar to area 51. In one part Bart and Lisa stumble into a building labeled "hangar 18" and inside there is a "grey" with an illuminated rod similar to the plutonium one Homer has stuck on his back in the beginning of every show. No pictures were allowed etc, etc. I only caught a portion but I found it interesting that area51 is now penetrating America's favorite cartoon. That Matt Groening is one crazy cat.
