We were under a VFR flight plan but under the control of the Nellis Range Control in the MOAs near the eastern border of the area. Our transponder mode c was non-funtional and we were asked repeatedly for altitude info. After passing south of the Pharanagat Vellely, NRC released us back to Nellis AFB. At the time of the flight, an Air Warrior exercise was being conducted. My pilot works for Southern Nevada's oldest air charter service and did not want to countermand the NRC instructions.
