I have talked with Dr. Wolf several times as well as his brother once. His sister denounces his claims; his brother supports them. A few persons I have talked with have seen some documents supporting his claims. He, himself, does not seem interested in proving this to anyone. He is a very friendly fellow. Stanton Friedman has also denounced his claims in what Dr. Wolf felt was a very rude way.

I like Dr. Wolf and find that I share some of his views. Both he and I have something in common. We both attempting to signal UFOs with light beam communicators when we were teenagers. His brother tells of a time when they both saw a huge craft together when they were young.

Dr. Wolf claims he worked as lead of the Alphacom team for Majestic. The Alphacom team act as interface communicators with the aliens. He has grown fond of the aliens he has known and objects to those military operations that are engaged in shooting down alien vehicles.

Of course, there is a wide range of opinion on those who have had experiences with aliens on how much threat they pose to humans. Usually this seems to vary with the type of aliens making contact. Some seem benign and others seem malicious. Perhaps that is the truth as it would be with your own experiences of various humans.

Dr. Wolf worked on the alien neurocybernetic interface to the alien craft - the way they control the craft through brainwaves. Apparently we can interfere with their control by beaming interference waves at their craft and attempt to bring them down. The frequencies seem to be in the microwave domain and are emitted by radar transmitters in the S-band. I know that Wright-Patt AFB has attempted to produce an aviator's helmet similar to the headband used by the aliens that would amplify and decode a pilot's brainwaves when sending command signals to his aircraft. Pilots need a lot of concentration and mental control to make this work and we not seem to be as adept as the aliens in controlling our thinking.

I think Dr. Wolf has some interesting ideas to contribute to our understanding of the alien mind. I am sure there are many more "out there" who have had some experience that would give us further insights.

Sincerely,

Bill Hamilton

Note: It is well known to Project Aquarius that most ET's have Psionic Powers (ability to mentally control surroundings, rearrange or create matter and/or project illusions). Greys, Nordics, Oranges need a special Psionic implant. Without the implant, they have no Psionic abilities.....Col.
