The Las Vegas Sun has an article (by an author whose name must have caused him trouble as a child, might I add 8) about radio wacko Art Bell at:

Art Bell's strange universe

UFOs, vampire monkeys, bottomless holes -- no subject is too far out for talk radio's new star

By Scott Dickensheets
 LAS VEGAS SUN

The truth is out there. But probably not with the caller who says her lover is an alien lizard. Or the Emory University professor who insists the Hale-Bopp comet is towing an alien object. Or the caller who says 100 million Americans are actually alien life-forms. That number is clearly too low.

But perhaps some of the insomniacs and late-shift workers who call talk-radio host Art Bell from their various points on the midnight wacko spectrum aren't full of it. Perhaps someone out there in the great American night has seen something or thought something or gotten close enough to unusual information to be of interest to the 15 million people who tune in Bell's "Coast to Coast," the most popular overnight radio show in the land. So he keeps those phone lines open.

If you've suddenly recovered a memory of being kidnapped and probed by aliens or have a theory on cattle mutilations, well, no one wants to hear your story more than Bell and his audience. "I'll talk about anything," he says. Any topic that emits a weird glow in our pre-millennial gloom, you can tell him all about it on one of the five toll-free lines leading into the modest Pahrump home where he lives and broadcasts.

Mel from Washington state, you're on the air!
