Toby Wells wrote concerning footage of Clarence Kelley Johnson pointing to the words "AREA 51" on a blackboard at the Skunkworks.

"The footage was uncovered by Hugh McDaid while shooting Robot Warriors, a documentary on unmanned aircraft."

"Uncovered" is hardly the term I would use. This footage has aired many times on the Discovery Channel's WINGS program, featuring the development of the U-2 and SR-71 and is even available from Lockheed's employee store, contained in a video titled "Kelley's Way."

I received dozens of e-mails over this footage everytime someone new "discovers" it.
