Yesterday NBC announced on the 6 o' clock news that the man who invented the A-51 theory admits its a hoax!! Help prove him wrong!! Well it's not too difficult. Area 51 does take up a rather LARGE portion of the Nevada Desert, it's listed on maps -- well, okay, it's NOT listed on maps, which is the same thing in a kind of screwed up catch-22ism, and last but not least... we know it's not your standard Bombers they're testing there because if they were... they wouldn't react like they have according to many Airplane enthusiast magazines. Whether there are UFO's, high tech hardware, aliens or any of the other theories postulated make little difference. A-51 is definitely very real, it very definitely is in violation of SEVERAL Federal, International and State Laws. (EPA, and so on) And this is part of the real tragedy of it being as supersecret as it is... in essence our dear Government can, and apparently WILL, do whatever the hell they want.
