I have watched you grow from the begining, and have never replied to anything up to now. I am an old ex Marine retired, and just wanted to say job well done. I think it is about time, you take time for yourself. You know I have watched and wondered, what normal people would think or feel, if they have seen what some of us have over the years. Nothing is ever what it appears to be, when it comes to assuring that those we have always protected keep their sanity. I don't mean this to sound like a riddle of any kind, but I have a feeling you know what I am saying. I have many times wished the truth could be told, but there is no way without destroying everything people have ever been taught to believe in. Which may be untruths, but at least it works and most survive. What most want to know the truth about, I truly hope they never know. The truth will not set anyone free, but it would destroy what little we have left to live for. Col. as you very well know not one of us in reality are what we appear to be. But each and every one of us are our own worse nightmares, when we need to be.

Respectfully
papaw

Note: I know exactly what you mean and Amen to that. The truth is so horrible that not even the most devout believers would believe it... I don't sleep well anymore just thinking about how and when it will all start.....Col.
