ROSWELL HANGAR

[Regarding: <http://www.ufomind.com/area51/list/1997/may/a22-002.shtml>]

From: Steve Douglass <webbfeat@arn.net>
To: webmaster@ufomind.com
Subject: Roswell Hangar

I was down in Roswell with Meinrad. The hangar he is talking about is in the NE corner not the NW. Knowing the base more than well, I can tell you for a fact, it is not where they build busses.

The hangar is protected by a high security fence, camera and keypad for gate entry. During Roving Sands the hangar was guarded closely but last week, when I was down in Roswell, it was not. Meinrad posted a photo of the hangar and I will scan it is ( B&W) and send it on to you.

All the while down in Roswell, I never saw the hangar open up but a hummer with MPs did park in front of it at all times. Rumor has it that the hangars are used for transient alert military aircraft that are based elsewhere from time to time.

Other than that, there doesn't seem to be any permanent military presence at RIAC.

GOVERNMENT LICENCE PLATES

A reminder:
Gov't plate tracking can be a useful source of information but beware: many 'ssssshhhhhh' department operators are issued a series of random plates/vehicles that they change at irregular intervals. I advise sticking with the property detection work rather than wasting your time with vehicle plates etc., unless you find out which department is paying tabs for it or has its registration on file.

NELLIS AIR SHOW FANTASY STORY?

Am I the only one who thinks this is a fantasy story ? There are far too many gaps in reason for this to be remotely plausible. In the history of this news group we have seen many more stories which are far more cleaver, this effort rates a 3 1/2 out of 10. Any thought ? Any nominations for most clever story seen on these pages ?

Just read most of all these web sites on Area 51.... Hey count me in as a believer..... I was stationed at Nellis 83-85, Area II; never heard one thing about aliens. I was more intrested in chasing women and gambling.. But really, while on Nellis for over 2 years I really never heard much about aliens... then again, back then who did????? Still believe though, universe is just to big, theres got to be life elsewhere..... Thanks for the readings.... I'll keep a reading.....

PBS SHOW ON U-2

From: Rich.McIntosh@ci.sj.ca.us

Subject: Re: Possible film of Area 51? -Reply

On Thursday night 5/7/97 on one of the local PBS stations there was a documentary (American Experience series) on Kelly Johnson and his work on the U-2. The title was "Spy In The Sky" Mr. Johnson was quoted as referring to the remote site as "Paradise Ranch". It was obviously a desert site and while none of the former Lockheed employees made any specific remarks with regard to location, the film did show extensive shots of the mountains and desert surrounding the field. Was the testing of the U-2 done in and around Area 51 or another location? PBS does have a web page for both the series and this particular episode but they did not include any photos of the testing site. This testing of course was done in the early to mid 50's and I suppose now the area bears little resemblance to the activity that currently takes place there. Just curious.

Subject: Bigelow is a Thief

It may interest you to know that one of the key issues in Bigelow's purchase of the Utah ranch near Roosevelt last fall was that there were alleged alien artifacts found on the property, before Bigelow signed the paperwork. Bigelow made some rather wild statements, according to three witnesses, involving the five jet-black metal rods that Bigelow requested to take for testing and would not return.

Bigelow himself said they had unusual physical and electrical characteristics in addition to being extremely hard, then changed his story. He told the former ranch owner they were just carbon rods from old batteries and suggested the rancher spread this story around to the other people in town the rancher had shown them to.

Bigelow would not return the rods, which he never purchased outright and had no ownership rights to, expecting his concocted explanation to settle the matter. There is no recourse for other reputable researchers to take but to say Robert T. Bigelow, whatever else he is, is indeed a thief and all research done by his organization and with his finacial backing is inexorably tainted.

ERICH VON DANIKEN THEME PARK

Date: Wed, 28 May 1997 11:21:09 +0100
Subject: BATWING CMD: Erich von Daeniken plans theme park in Switzerland

DER BOTE DER URSCHWEIZ reports in its 5/22/97 issue as follows:

"Author Erich von Daeniken plans to open a theme park at Interlaken AFB in central Switzerland in 2001. The privately financed 60'000 square-meters park would like to present unsolved earthly riddles in an attractive way. Costs are expected to be 40 million Swiss Francs. With Swiss Air Force partly doing without Interlaken AFB due to the deployment of the recently purchased F/A -18s, discussions about a civil use of the area are going on at present."

COMMENT: With Erich von Daeniken being into ancient astronauts research, we expect the park's exhibits to be quite colorful ones, to say the least. Furtheron, its setting would be very spectacular: The snow-capped Bernese Alps with Mount Eiger, Moench and Jungfrau are just a stone's throw away. If von Daeniken finds enough willing souls ready to finance this masterpiece, we'll be dealing with just another interesting destination for tourists climbing up and down the Swiss Alps.

Area 51 has been moved to White Sands,Utah.
It is now offically called "Area 6413"
It was moved do to tourism. That's all I can say.
If you don't belive me, read Popular Mechanics.

I agree with the May 17 listing about Area 51 being claimed a hoax. We all know that it's not. I for one have seen it from the air. What in the hell is a base doing out in the middle of nowhere? Oh, I'm sorry, where the "Weather Balloon" crashed. THAT was a bunch of bullshit. It was a UFO and anyone from Rosewell can tell you that it was NOT a "Weather Balloon". I have proof (pictures and video tape) to prove that it is there! How can they deny it now??? How many people here agree with me? Or am I alone on this?

DESPERATELY SEEKING END-OF-TERM EVIDENCE

From: [withheld]
Date: 97-05-23 22:10:43 EDT

I need some evidence that aliens exist for my project for English class. Could you send me some pictures of the evidence, like a video of the foil that when bended, it unbends itself to normal and flat, or some of that crashed UFO at Roswell, or that purple alien writing. If I can't prove that they exist then I flunk the semester & have to go to summer school. If I get this evidence, then I get an A+ for the class & graduate. E-Mail me back with your answer. I would really really appreciate it if I could get the evidence.

cambell,
I have listened to your theories on area 51 and I agree with your assertions on the secret disc development/alien operations ongoing in the s-4 area. My question for you is that all tapes I have seen with you and Bob Lazar date back to 1991-2. I'm curious to know what is the updated situation at the region? I heard "Victor" on Art Bell's Coast to Coast show on 5-23-94 talking about the smuggled tape of the Alien interregation and I'm curious to know if Dreamland is still active? Popular Mechanics's recent article states that all research and development of the disc craft has been moved. Is this true? Finally is there any updated tapes of information in general that I can obtain freely or by buying?

[I didn't know I had any theories on Area 51. I didn't move to Nevada until 1993. --GC]
