An acquaintance of mine, a former CEO of a major corporation, reports on contacts he has had with several sources. Words in [brackets] are my clarifications or editing at his request. Of course, these stories are purely anecdotal, and there is nothing much we can do to follow up on them. -- GC

I had dinner recently with a [high ranking Air Force officer]. I asked him about UFO's. He replied - 'I cannot under any circumstances discuss that subject with you.'

Another source [not known to me directly] is a senior officer at Area 51 - he says that every new President is briefed there for about 7 hours. He observed Nixon and Johnson after their briefing and said that they were completely overwhelmed by what they were shown.

A third source [known to me] has spent time inside the perimeter of the base at Air Force invitation. The guards told him never to step outside his car if it broke down because it was mandatory to shoot to kill anyone on foot inside the base.

The same source observed a UFO in Oklahoma with 200 other people for about 30 minutes at a distance of only 100 yards. The UFO was over 300 feet in size and was the classic saucer with an energy field on top and below the base that extends from the middle of the bottom. Electricity was cut off in the house over which the UFO hovered. After 30 minutes, the UFO moved horizontally about three miles in less than a second and stopped dead for another minute or so, it then went vertically and out of sight at enormous speed. Observation windows were clearly observed as well as the metallic skin.

I dunno Glenn -- I have been tryin to repeat your most estimable exploits with Area.51 with some of the fine facilities right here in my very own back yard, and thus far haven't had much luck in gettin anyone to notice these local manifestations of the Nebulous Control Authority.

We will, however, be resuming the "Check it Out!!" series in the not-too-distant future, as we have identified some REALLY obscure operating locations right here in River City, and we will see what we will see.

Inside Edition's story on Secret Aircraft in Civilian airspace supposedly runs TODAY. See local listings.

Also, S. Brown reports:

"On Friday, October 4 at 9 pm Eastern time (check local listings), the Discovery Channel's WINGS series will show a new episode called 'Spy Planes,' which includes extensive face time with 'journalist' S. Brown. The program deals with the U-2, SR-71 Blackbird, and the idea (the "Aurora" idea) that an unacknowledged hypersonic spyplane may exist."

In a very odd move both the Extrasolar Planet Encyclopedia Website:

<http://www.obspm.fr/planets>

and the Darwin website:

http://ast.star.rl.ac.uk/darwin/darwin_planets.html#zeta^2_ret

Have erased all references to Zeta 2 Reticuli.

Just thought I'd pass that along. It's strange since both of them still list a bunch of unconfirmed or even doubtful planet detections. And they wonder why people are skeptical of science.

I seem to recall that the the gray's homeworld has been described as a desert planet. Does this jive with any of the data presented so far?

The Inside Edition piece had nothing new but still makes you wonder: What is flying by our jetliners?

It recounted the recent near-miss of a wedge-shaped craft with a British airliner. It is hard to disbelieve an airline pilot when he files a report that an unlit silver craft whizzed by his cockpit. That was the only thing new about the story; the rest was stock footage and standard sound bites by John Pike and Steve Douglass.

As expected, Inside Edition scored an "exclusive" series of "No Comments" by Air Force Secretary Sheila Widnall.

The only mildly interesting No Comment was when Widnall was asked about UFOs, apparently whether the government was flying them.

Widnall: "That's popular culture. I can't even comment on that."

Interviewer: "Can you deny it?"

Widnall: "I'm not even going to discuss it."

A mildly interesting clip was footage of the Dark Star UAV crashing in a ball of fire, which I hadn't seen before.

Following the "mysterious" disappearance of the Zeta 2 Reticuli information from the Extra-Solar Planets Catalog I e-mailed the site's maintainer asking him why this info was removed and whether the planet's discoverers, Cochran & Hatzes, would still be going ahead with their 23 October announcement.

Here is his answer :

Zet 2 Ret is likely to be, after inspection of data, a false alarm. The DPS Meeting announcement ('a real planet') is maintained.

 Subject: Clinton Must Renew Exemption For Groom Base
 Date: Sat, 28 Sep 1996 06:21:00 -0700

Paul McGuiness points out that Clinton's exemption of the Groom Lake base from environmental laws may need to be renewed within the next few days.

For original exemption see....

http://www.ufomind.com/area51/desert_rat/1995/dr31/exemption.html

Glenn -- remember PD 95-45, dated September 29, 1995, that exempted Groom from the environmental laws? In there, one finds the line, "This exemption shall be effective for the full one-year statutory period." Any idea if they plan to renew this at the end of this month? Also, the 2 year "maximum segregative period" for the Groom withdrawal when other government agencies are not permitted up on Freedom Ridge or White Sides ends in April 1997. What happens then? Maybe it's time to consider an exciting career as a BLM Ranger...

Nope. Nothing more than what I reported in DR.

There was nothing I could follow up on, and the guy who reported it to me wasn't interested in publicizing it.

I'd give it 60% that the event actually happened. If it did happen, this guy was a clown and I doubt that anything useful can be derived from the incident. He certainly didn't get very far -- or see anything you can't see from public land.

Regarding comments on Einstein, antigravity. I just finished reading a book called "The Einstein Myth and the Ives Papers: A Counter-revolution in Physics...." by D. Turner and R. Hazelett. It is fascinating reading, especially concerning Ives demolition of Einstein's relativity theories and experiments with the velocity of light.

There's something to this thing we call 'alternative science'!

Richard Hoagland has proposed some interesting (but probably not original) ideas regarding the physics of rotating bodies.

Further research is necessary.

Hey kids,
Believe it or not the NRO now has an official website: www.nro.odci.gov
And as far as gov websites go, this one is pretty snazzy. The even published a list of directors all the way back to 1961. It will be interesting to see if searches on any of these names pull up Area51 connections...You should all also check out: www.fas.org/irp

Here's hoping Glenn doesn't censor me!
