Abbreviations Used

Delorme Mapping produces an impressive series of detailed state atlases for the majority of U.S. States. Drawn from government data, these atlases provide topographic maps of every part of the state and are the equivalent of buying dozens of USGS maps.

We stock all Delorme atlases at standard retail price -- plus an assortment of used copies and previous editions at significant discount. Unless specified otherwise, all items are normally in stock for immediate shipment (subject to occasional shortages). Order today, and you should have your atlas in 2-3 business days.

In response the popularity of GPS receivers, DeLorme has revised many of its atlases to include latitude/longitude grid marks along the borders of each map. If these marks are not important to you, you can save money by ordering the slightly older non-GPS version. Because it makes a difference to some people, we have tried to specify "with GPS" or "no GPS" to indicate the presence of GPS grids for each map. Those marked "semi GPS" have no grids, but the latitude and longitude is marked at the four corners of each map. (You can use a ruler to figure approximate coordinates.) Apart from GPS grids, there is very little difference between the editions.

The atlases below are in alphabetical order. All maps are new unless "used" is specified. (The first item listed for each state is a new copy.) Most of our used copies are in very good condition, having only been used for office reference. See also: USGS Topographic Maps

AustraliaAtlas	Australia Road Atlas (new) 1997. Publisher: HEMA Maps. 10x13.5" All of Australia shown in a variety of scales (more detailed in populated areas). This is equivalent to a Mobil road atlas in the U.S. (1/24/99)	19.95 book2
BritainAtlas	Britain Road Atlas (new) 1996, 140pp, 11x15". Publisher: American Automobile Association. (Identical to AA Atlas in Britain.) Detailed road atlas for all of Britain, including a less detailed map of Ireland. (1/24/99)	19.95 book2
usatlas	Gousha USA Road Atlas: 1996 Edition	4.48 book2
Eartha	Eartha World Travelog (new) 1998. 11x15". Publisher: Delorme. Delorme's atlas of the world. Maps of 192 countries, arranged by continent. Each map shows roads, cities and topography in shaded relief. The detail is necessarily limited by the wide scope. The margins include facts about each country. This is a very attractive atlas, but not nearly as useful as the state atlases. (1/24/99)	19.95 book3

Explanation of Ratings

These large-format atlas provided detailed topographic maps of each state. The series currently includes atlases for 30 states, from Alaska to Florida, with each state covered in its entirety. Big, full-color maps offer the most comprehensive and up-to-date detail available and can save hundreds of dollars in USGS topo maps. The Gazetteer sections are loaded with information on places to go and things to do, from hot springs to caves to historic sites. Most atlases feature elevation contours, major and minor road, and foliage overprints. With their easy-to-use format, these atlases are the ultimate trip planners and take-along guides for any kind of back-road or off-road adventure. Also handy for at-home research. We stock all DeLorme state atlases for immediate shipment! -- Glenn Campbell

Reservations

For local roads, these atlases do not clearly distinguish dirt roads from paved ones, or the quality of dirt tracks. When travelling off-highway, never trust your life to this or any other atlas. You should also carry the state's official highway map for better for overview of major roads.

Comparison to Other Books

Delorme offers by far the best state atlases available, well worth the price for anyone visiting a state.
