Explanation of Ratings

Credibility = High: The sighting report is well-presented, regardless of any eventual conclusion.

Visual Information = Very High: Report includes lots of visual information, including a map, several full page diagrams of what was seen and a few other drawings.

Style = Stylish: A appealing document that is easy to read.

In May 1995, while enroute from Tampa to Las Vegas, an America West flight crew spotted an unusual light formation over Texas. It appeared to be an elongated, cigar-shaped craft with a row of lights along its edge. Two documents are included: the Interim Report describing the sighting and a Final Report, composed of sighting reports, articles, diagrams and transcripts of conversations with air traffic controllers. Funded by Robert Bigelow through the short-lived UFO Research Coalition, these reports provide the most thorough documentation that can given to a single sighting. Includes two articles from the MUFON UFO Journal on similar airline sightings in Britain and Argentina. -- Glenn Campbell

Reservations

Although otherwise well-illustrated, one useful photo is missing: We would have liked to see a photo of the Customs Service balloon that was offered by skeptics as an explanation for the sightings.

Publisher's Synopsis

Interim Report

In the Spring of 1995, an America West Airlines crew sighted a cigar-shaped object with a row of bright lights hovering in front of a thundercloud. An FAA air traffic controller reported that NORAD had tracked the UFO on radar. This preliminary report (prepared by Richard Hall) presents initial findings of Webb's investigation. Center-stapled.

Final Report

Complements the Interim Report and includes a transcript of the aircrew and flight controller conversations, completed sighting questionnaires, the co-pilot's computer-generated drawing of the UFO, and Webb's analysis and conclusions. (Sponsored by the UFO Research Coalition) Center-stapled.
