Between Fate and Destiny Lives Man

Many thousands of years ago, a race of extraordinary visitors to planet Earth deciphered the cosmic code and used genetic engineering to short-circuit evolution and bring about Homo sapiens. Their footprints include the vast monolithic structures on Earth and on the surface of Mars. Zecharia Sitchin, the internationally acclaimed author, biblical scholar and Orientalist, reconstructed in his books the events on Earth from the time that the Anunnaki (“Those Who From Heaven To Earth Came”) had come here for gold, created The Adam as a primitive worker, and after the Deluge gave Mankind increasingly sophisticated knowledge every 3,600 years, when their planet Nibiru comes closer to Earth. But the knowledge imbedded in the Cosmic Code remained an enigma.

In The Cosmic Code, the newest entry in a lifetime of research and writings based on Sumerian clay tablets, the Bible and archaeological evidence in the Old and New Worlds, Zecharia Sitchin lifts the veil that has separated humanity’s fate from its destiny, and dares reveal the nature of Prophecy in the Old and New Testaments and the secret code that links Mankind to the stars. In doing so, he reconstructed the dramatic events of the last millennium BC, when a god returned to Earth and another came back from exile, and the last king of Babylon heard prophecies of the End of Days.
