These large-format atlas provided detailed topographic maps of each state. The series currently includes atlases for 30 states, from Alaska to Florida, with each state covered in its entirety. Big, full-color maps offer the most comprehensive and up-to-date detail available and can save hundreds of dollars in USGS topo maps. The Gazetteer sections are loaded with information on places to go and things to do, from hot springs to caves to historic sites. Most atlases feature elevation contours, major and minor road, and foliage overprints.

All of the atlases listed below are usually in stock for immediate shipping (although quantities may be limited).

txroadsu	The Roads of Texas (used trade paperback) By Unstated. 1988, Shearer Publishing, 170pp. Atlas based on county road maps from the State Dept. Of Transportation. Includes only roads, park boundaries, water features and township/range grids; no topography. Scale is 1:208k. Although this atlas seems bland compared to Delorme, it could be a useful supplement, since road data comes from a different source. May be helpful for backroad travel. ## Outside USA

These atlases are not from DeLorme but are of similar size. All are new and in stock.

eartha	Eartha World Travelog (new) 1998. 11x15". Publisher: Delorme. Delorme's atlas of the world. Maps of 192 countries, arranged by continent. Each map shows roads, cities and topography in shaded relief. The detail is necessarily limited by the wide scope. The margins include facts about each country.
