Here is what I'm hoping is final format....any changes or such get them to me by 1200Z Tuesday 22 June 1999...I deleted many of the "details" from before since we seem to get in an endless debate on what is xyz, etc. lets keep it general for now and if needed we can refine it again in the future.

George

The skunk-works mailing list was created mainly for discussions of the technology produced by Lockheed Advanced Development Company (LADC), also known as the Skunk Works, as our list name suggests. We also welcome discussions about appropriate technologies from sources outside of the Skunk Works. These discussions may include historical and political aspects of these products. And in addition to include discussion of sightings of unknown aircraft thought to have the potential of being a LADC product.
