Nov 22, 1974 in Knoxville Tennessee, 0300 hrs. I have always worked the night shift and stay up all night long. I walked to my back door and looked out at the snow on the ground and saw a shadow going across the ground now normaly i would not pay attention to this but this shadow was huge. I walked outside and all i had on was a pair of shorts as the house was hot. I walked in the snow to the house next door as my nephew lived there and he was also up. I told him to come outside and look at what I was looking at. He walked outside and said "What in the hell is that"? I told him that I didn't know. We watched as it moved out of sight then we got in my car and followed it up the road for about 3 or 4 miles. Then it shot up at a great speed I don't tell people about this to often and when I told family members about this they said I was crazy.

My cousin also saw this as he was delivering news papers in the county. His email adress is dbnawell@hotmail.com
