EDITOR'S NOTE:

A friend has asked if I knew the whereabouts of Terry Lynn Taylor, who writes about angels. I couldn't find her with the search engines I used. Anyone else know how to contact her these days? --Pat <pwelsh@nwu.edu>

To report an email abuse:

To: abuse@netcom.com
Subject: Email

Include the following information in the BODY of the message:

- * The forum = email
- * The username of the sender
- * A copy of the message with full headers

Without this information it's difficult to validate and take appropriate action against these users. If you are reporting a violation of a non-NETCOM user, please send the report to the Internet Service provider that provides service to that user. This is often the address of: postmaster@domain.com

Someone else's recommendation:

Get a program called Spam Hater its a nice little shareware program which will pick up all usable (and some not-so) addresses from the Spam and enter your complaining message to send back to these addresses. I don't get rude but I do complain. Also DO NOT respond to the remove!! Its just a way to check to see if your email address is useable.

UFO QUOTES:

Excerpt from the Sept. 25th issue of "United Kingdom UFO Network"'s
<ufo@holodeck.demon.co.uk> chat with Michael Lindemann on 9/20/97:

<CNIMikeL> Let me say I'm not a UFO experiencer, as far as I know...I started a serious study of this topic from the political angle...in 1989. Since then, I've been pretty much full time on this...

<Question> Before 1989 did you ever give any of this much thought?

<CNIMikeL> I did not. It was no more than a subject of entertainment for me...I was as enthralled by films like "Close Encounters" as anyone, I suppose...but prior to 1989 it did not occur to me that this subject was real...

I started as a political analyst with a lot of background in US govt secrecy, especially regarding nuclear weapons. It became obvious to me, from the moment I took a serious look, that there are "official secrets" about UFOs. I did not know what those secrets were, or why they should be kept... but I was highly intrigued that they had been kept so successfully for so long. That said to me that there must be a VERY large agenda operating...

...there is VERY DEFINITELY a large and deeply covert govt interest in this...It is frankly infuriating, at this late stage, that we must still be treated like idiots for saying this...SO MANY military figures and similar people now attest to the reality of UFO encounters, there is just no doubt at all that these events are...occurring, and in great numbers, in many parts of the world.

I discuss the "need for secrecy" with many other researchers ...the consensus, for the most part, is tending toward the idea that there must be something perceived to be "very bad" in the UFO phenomenon itself--not just in the possible public reaction and so forth...it's as Philip Corso said in his recent book--the military has assumed from the beginning that UFOs represented a possibly hostile power. Much as I would prefer to believe otherwise, I'm convinced that those who've managed the secrecy side do think there is legitimate anger represented by UFOs...

...Let me share an idea given me by another researcher who, unlike myself, is very much an experiencer as well...He said he feels that public interest creates a certain kind of psychic opening which...enables alien forces to access the Earth in greater strength. He thinks that dissuading humans from feeling open about ET contact...is actually a purposeful effort at defending the Earth from incursion. I cannot vouch for this idea, but it struck me as highly intriguing...

...the most exciting thing [happening in ufology today] is the confluence of many kinds of evidence toward the building of a rock-certain case for the...reality of visitation by other intelligent beings. This confluence includes the testimony of people like Philip Corso, the discovery of planets around other stars, the new theoretical work in physics that shows...that "faster than light speed" is NOT impossible, the likelihood of at least rudimentary life even on other planets in our own solar system not to mention other stars...When all this is added together with the continuing array of impressive UFO cases, we see a pattern so robust that eventually...there will be no possibility of official denial any longer. That day has not arrived, but it is coming...

...I have queried a lot of other researchers as well as abductees on this [the reason for abductions] and I find that almost no one is really sure what abduction is...First, "it" is obviously not one single thing...as with other elements of the UFO mystery, abduction has several overlapping likely explanations, at least...for example, some abductees may well be confusing other forms of psychological trauma with supposed alien encounter...in some cases, there may be actually be a brain electro-chemical process involved...in some cases, I am pretty sure there is actual kidnapping and induced terror by human agents of some kind...

and then we come, at least, to contacts with other intelligent beings...in this category, we must ask whether human terror is actually an appropriate response to what really happens...that is, was the human actually "abducted" in the traumatic sense, or not? In many cases, the abductee is really not sure...

but let's accept that SOME abductions are precisely what they appear to be

(I think this is a valid assumption)--OK, then, WHY? Two primary ideas stand out, I think...1) "They" need something we've got, or 2) "They" think we need something they've got. In the first category--genetic material, revitalization, etc....In the second category, we're trashing the Earth and need remedial training in bio-ethics, etc....All of this, of course, is speculation...
