MARFA LIGHTS

Date: Fri, 24 Jul 1998 00:24:19 -0500
From: Tom Anderson <ww5l@gte.net>
Subject: Re: UFOMIND: List of UFO "Hot Spots"

The Marfa Lights are so popular that the Texas Highway Department has paved a very wide spot on Hwy 90 between Alpine and Marfa for viewing.

I've been there a couple times during the summer when there were so many viewers and parked cars you almost needed a reservation. Also several Marfa and Alpine residents told me, although I've never gotten it documented from university officials, that a full 4-year college scholarship to Sul Ross State University in Alpine awaits the first person to prove exactly what causes the Marfa Lights. Marfa even has an annual Marfa Lights Festival.

GREEN RIVER

Commenting on: <http://www.ufomind.com/place/us/ut/greenriver/>

When I was in the Army, Green River served as an "Impact Area" for missile shots out of White Sands, NM Nothing was ever launched from there in the 70's, it only crashed there.

There are three other areas that researchers should look into, in the State of Utah, Deserette Proving Grounds, Tooele Proving Grounds and Dugway Proving Grounds. A lot of stuff was dumped there, and, all three were condemned/closed in the 70's. At least that's what we were told.

If I wanted to hide something from the public, it would be in one of those three sites. A lot of different "stuff" was tested out there...

Flying North along Calif. coast at 5 pm @ 30,000 ft, & above coastline clouds, I saw a small disk shaped (intel?) cloud traveling south, turn west between 2 cloud pillars, changed course direction to north and at approximately at a 30 degree angle of decent disappeared into the cloud banks below.

"UFO CAPITAL" IN MOJAVE DESERT?

From: GlenShiel@aol.com
Date: Thu, 23 Jul 1998 12:11:37 EDT
To: webmaster@ufomind.com
Subject: Mojave sightings

Hi-I live in Los Angeles and Palmdale and the southern Mojave in California is an easy 3 hour drive from me. I would like to know the name of the town where so many ufo sightings have occurred because I want to go up there and check it out.

Can you give me some more info on this? Seems to me saw this on some tv show so I'm not sure if it's fiction or not. I know that there have been various sightings near Edwards Air Force Base but is that the same location as "the most sightings?"

[From the Moderator: I seem to vaguely remember a town in California being the "UFO capital". Does anyone know it? --GC]

WHAT HAPPENED TO MORTON'S BOOK?

From: "M. Swake" <mswak@mcs.com>
Subject: Area 51 Book Publishing "Cancelled"

I am a supporter of your website and have every book ever published about "Area 51", Dreamland, U.F.O. research, etc. I would like to bring something to your attention for what it's worth.

Since last September, 1997, I have become aware of a new book which was to be published in February 1998, "Area 51: Nightmare in Dreamland" by a Sean Morton. I have the Darlington book, Area 51: The Dreamland Chronicles and was very interested in this additional book about Area 51.

The book in question was not published in February or March of 1998.
I had a Barnes and Noble as well as Amazon.com check into the pending publication of this book and they told me it would be published sometime in the Summer of 1998.

I have since been notified that the publication of the book, "Area 51: Nightmare in Dreamland" has been cancelled. This would seem to be the publisher's prerogative; however, I feel there is a reason it is not being published of which I may never find out.

If you should know anything about this, please put something in your newsletter. I find it quite interesting!

[I would guess that it was cancelled by the publisher because it was rubbish. The publisher, M. Evans, is a respectable mainstream house, and Sean might not have lived up to their editorial standards. It is a shame. Sean promised to expose the frauds and wackos of Area 51, and I assume that I was one of them. -gc]

WHAT IS BLUE BOOK?

Someone writes...

>This might sound like a strange question..but..is there a copy of the >official Air Force Blue Book ?

Project Blue Book is not a book but a former Air Force project that generated a huge number of files, now stored at the national archives (where you can view them on microfilm). There are far too many pages to publish, but a few books offer the best parts of the Blue Book files -- mainly the summary reports and studies of the unresolved cases (the "unknowns").

In our catalog, we have a selection of documents on Blue Book at:
<http://www.ufomind.com/catalog/subject/ufo/gov/bluebook/>

The first book I recommend is the Brad Steiger one at <http://www.ufomind.com/catalog/b/bluebook/> for only $5.99.

ANOTHER AREA 51 ALUMNUS

From: danielro@tic.ch

Subject: Detachment 3, Air Force Flight Test Center

I just did a search for "Detachment 3, Air Force Flight Test Center" and found a website on a COLONEL GEORGE PEACH TAYLOR, JR. at Ramstein AFB in Germany. According to his assignments list, he was probably on active duty in Area51 as there is under 2.: "April 1981 - August 1983, chief, aerospace medicine, Detachment 3, Air Force Flight Test Center, Henderson, Nev."

CHAMBER OF COMMERCE AND "HOT SPOTS"

[Initially, a hot spot is popular in spite of the chamber of commerce. Later, it is because of it. --GC]

The Noise. The noise of an angry people clamoring for the truth at the doors of Area 51. The Noise. The silent stealthy noise of a government neatly concealing the truth. The noise of that carefully assembled cover blowing into a million pieces. They say the truth is carefully concealed between two lies. The noise gets louder....
