Today on Montel: People who read other people's mail

Because our website has a very large biographical section, we get a lot of mail that isn't intended for us. By far the largest recipient is talk show host Montel Williams, for whom we have an unofficial (and inconsequential) link page at www.ufomind.com/people/m/montel/.

A disclaimer at the top of our page says that it is unofficial and that we cannot forward messages, but this doesn't stop Mr. & Mrs. America from addressing us as "Montel". Below are some examples, rich in pathos. -- GC

Dear Montel,

You had a young woman on your show who was dating a man in prison. She was in love with this man who said he loved her. She deserves so much more, if you could be send her the below message and please include my email address.

Dear Melody,

My heart was broken when I saw you cry on TV. I know what you are going through because we all are looking for love. I am looking for love also but with many mistakes have learned that if you don't love yourself and family, you can not be loved. Love is a sharing emotion, a giving emotion, the strongest emotion that we can feel. I saw a beautiful red headed young woman that I would like to get to know. You have a lot to offer the right person. Do not sell yourself short with a person that will only abuse and use you. Please email me, I will offer you understanding, caring, and tenderness without expecting more in return, except friendship. Please write me back and I will help anyway I can, even if its just to talk as a friend.

Paul

Subject: BREAKING THE NEWS OF BIOLOGICAL PARENTS

I'm surprised that you would consider putting someone in the position (unknowingly) of finding out publicly that who they thought were their biological parents are in fact not. That is not a public matter and will most likely destroy the persons life. I have always viewed your show as a talk show with a GOOD purpose and was surprised of the request for calls on this subject.

Dear Montell,
I am a 23 year old female who has been insecure for years about my breast size. I have thought about implants but I know the health risks and Im not interested. I recently heard about a new breast enhancer called ERDIC. Its supposed to be all natural and was created to increase size and firmness of womens breast. If you could send me info about this product it would be greatly appreciated.
