Rio -- Village Seafood Buffet - One of the two Rio buffets. Three days after its opening, this all-seafood buffet has moved immediately to our number one spot, at least until the novelty wears off or the place closes down, which we think is financially inevitable. This buffet is separate from Rio's other world class facility, the Carnival Buffet. The seafood buffet is located at the other end of the casino in the new Mardi Gras Village, an indoor New Orleans style theme attraction. It's all seafood, all the time, in stunning variety and very, very fresh. I am told there are salt water tanks in the basement where they keep some of the entrees flown in from the ocean, to be dispatched only on the day of consumption....

- 2/10, 5pm: Hungary's "Color UFO" (Színes UFO) magazine is now online -- in Hungarian. Why this is important... isn't very important right now. Added to [UFO Research in Hungary]

- 2/9, 8am: Revised catalog entry.

- 2/8, 6pm: The Add-a-Link page has been updated for all index pages. See this example from our new Practice Page. The Practice Page gives you an opportunity to play with the comment and link system without doing any damage to existing pages.

Three new fields have been added to the link record: Document length, document type and document tone (supportive, critical, neutral). This will make more sense when you play with the link page.

- 2/8, 4pm: The change dates of less active pages are now displayed directly on our main Guide to Knowledge page, including the total number of ufologists.
- 2/7, 9pm: The assignment of categories to most ufologists is complete. Each Ufologist Page now includes links back to related topics, while Topic Pages contain links back to ufologists. The number of links currently available for each topic or ufologist is printed on the maint index page for each. (These numbers are updated every evening.)
- 2/7, 8pm: Web Philosophy of the Research Center has been updated on our organization page.

This site is intended as the "memory" of the UFO community. In the various paranormal, philosophical and other unconfirmable topics we like to cover, you may not know what to believe, but at least you can find out what has already been explored. Researchers shouldn't have to hunt for existing documents or repeat the same basic searches and inquiries that others have done before. If you do some research, even if it leads to a dead end, you should link your results to the appropriate place in this database. Researchers can then take advantage of a sort of collective intelligence that never forgets its past mistakes. That's why we call our site "Ufomind."

- 2/5, 8pm: The major pieces of software for our UFO database are now in place. There will be a lot of fine tuning and enhancements, but the most difficult programming is over. Now the challenge is to build the database, adding ufologists, assigning topics to them and adding links to pages.

We encourage our users to participate, using the various editing screens given. The main task for the moment is assigning topics to ufologists, which can be done on each of their pages. See our redesigned Ufologists page for starting points. Look for people with "0 categories" and try to figure out what categories they fit into.

Ufologists are cross referenced by topic, group, media and cases. Topic pages include lists of ufologists in that field. On every page, events, places, relationships and general links can be added. The possibilities for indexing and preserving UFO knowledge are tremendous, although we expect the system to take a few months to catch on.

Our government handlers will be pleased with this!

- 2/4, 8pm: System enhancements.

1. Links added to any of our index pages are now automatically displayed on the What's New page. The latest 15 are recorded here, and an additional 100 appear on a supplemental page.
2. Topics can now be assigned to ufologists based on the headings found on the main UFO page. You can assign topic, media and case names to a person. The topic headings appear on that person's link page, and clicking on them takes you to that topic's page. For example, John Mack's primary topic is Abduction & Contact. Art Bell's media link is Radio. Glenn Campbell's geographic link is Area 51. Since most ufologists don't yet have topics assigned, idle users are encouraged to add them.

Soon, an automatic link-back feature will be added to list the relevant ufologists on each topic page.

3. Relationships with others can now be defined on each ufologist page. For example, Chris Carter, Fox Mulder and Dana Scully are all related to each other.
4. Mulder and Scully can now be listed in our database, because we have create a category for "Hypothetical Characters" -- for purely fictional characters or people that we know about only through a single ufologist's claims. See the Add Ufologist page for more information.
5. A new option to specific language (English, German, etc.) has been added to the Add-a-Link section of our index pages. If the linked web page is not in English, the link is labelled with the language. Thus, we can now feel comfortable accepting links to pages in any language (although our index pages will continue to be in English).

With a few more pieces added, we'll have a sophisticated database system in place, capable of indexing just about everything in the UFO field, including people, links, cases, even print references. The idea is based on Yahoo, but with a lot of enhancements tailored to the peculiar needs of ufology.

- 2/4, 6pm: In the link system at the bottom of our index pages, NEW! is automatically added to links that are less than 15 days old. See UFO Sightings for an example.
- 2/4, 6pm: We despise Java normally, but this amusing saucer scene* has our attention.
- 2/4, 5pm: The Sensible Observer has been updated to include some preliminary answers to philosophical questions submitted by users. Future questions will be added to the page immediately, with answers coming whenever the guru has the time.
- 2/3, 5pm: Robert Gigler of Anchorage, Alaska, has added this comment to the bottom of our Area 51 page:

Glen Campbell hung up on me when i called him in 10s AS I IDENTIFIED MYSELF BUT BEFORE HE DID HE SAID STOP vegas sunday morning after he said stop spreading SPREADING DISINFORMATION ABOUT AREA 51 AND THE ALIEN vegas i think he has some kind of mental problem like i think bob lazar has been programed by aliens DOWN LOADED YOURE ENTIRE Data base system onto a c disk

We're worried about Our Director, who does not deny that he hung up on Gigler. What kind of mental illness would prompt him to do such a thing?

And what does Gigler mean by "called him in the 10s"? Apparently, that's a ten-call set. In a lengthy series of messages on our answering machine Gigler has promised to come to Las Vegas, find Campbell and set him straight on the alien brainwashing question -- certainly a cause for concern. He'll never find our wily Director, though, since Campbell has gone into hiding and has surrounded himself with HUNDREDS OF GUNS in a bunker somewhere in the desert. The only person at Campbell's Las Vegas residence is the anonymous webmaster, who doesn't know anything and will try his best to direct Gigler to Campbell's whereabouts.

- 2/2, 12pm: New page for Disputed Credentials - Ufologists who have lied about their educational or background claims, apart from their claims about UFOs.
- 2/2, 10am: Another claimed government insider has surfaced with a new book, as reported in the mailing list.
 - "Project Preserve Destiny" by Claimed Gov't Insider

Spending 12 years in the United States Air Force, D.L. Sherman became deeply involved in one of the most classified projects in military history. His involvement was more than just a military assignment, it was his life. He and a handful of others were chosen before they were even conceived in the womb (in cooperation with the US government), to be genetically altered for the purposes of being able to "intuitively communicate" with an alien race whom our government has been in contact with since 1947.
- 2/2, 9am: Out Investigation of Frank Stranges' educational credentials cannot find his claimed "Doctor of International Law" degree. Added to Frank Stranges.
- 2/2, 6am: Chart of Weekly Hits on Our Server. New page, automatically generated, summaries the total hits for our entire server for each 7 day period since 10/26/96, along with 1997 statistics.
- 2/1, 9am: Interesting Page on T. Townsend Brown*, the physicist whose work with electrogravitic propulsion systems is now the basis for many UFO propulsion theories. The site, which was authorized by the family, has many pictures of Brown and offers his patents and papers for sale. Added to our T. Townsend Brown links page.
