

Marooned!

By now we realize that we are trapped in this place. No rescue ship has arrived, and all our efforts to resist assimilation have failed, Finally we see that our anger and resentment is futile. Living among the Earthlings has gradualling transformed us. It almost seems like this is where we belong, like we were sent here for a reason. We only wish we were better prepared.

Now that we accept our predicament, where do we begin? How do we get to know this planet and its people? All the energy we spent fighting got us nowhere, so now we must turn to learning. How can we adjust to this planet that has become our home?

This website is designed to serve the needs of all beings who feel trapped here. We may long to solve the mysteries of our existance, but more important now are the simple practicalities of life on Earth. How do you maintain your body, get a job and navigate the complex politics of humanity? When you wake up in the morning, how do you know what to do?

This website -- which will always be unfinished -- is dedicated to the special needs of Earthbound Extraterrestrials -- those who were brought here against their will, who know that this planet really isn't theirs but are forced to live here anyway. We don't know when the ship will come, so for now we must live as the Earthlings do and try to find our place.
