Dispatches from Richard Boylan

5th World Transit-2

From: rich.boylan@24stex.com
 Date: Tue, 05 May 98 02:54:58 -0800
 Subject: 5th World Transit-2

Q8: How can extraterrestrial technological advances be disseminated widely and fairly to all societies on Earth, and how is this process prioritized?

My answer: The extraterrestrials have made it known that they wish to deal with a group which is truly representative of the peoples of Earth. The U.N. possibly may not be up to this standard. The representative group will be expected to see that extraterrestrial knowledge and technology are distributed fairly to all peoples, without the favoritism and priorities which historically have been accorded to the rich and powerful nations of the Earth. It will be a humbling but salutary experience for the NATO countries to find out that we do not go first, nor get more than our share of these resources.

e) Current Situation:

Q9: How prepared are the peoples of Earth for global authoritative declaration of extraterrestrial contact and open demonstrations of their presence? What can enhance that preparedness?

My answer: Most countries of the world do not experience the massive, powerful and well-organized UFO Cover-Up which is prevalent in the U.S., the UK, and to a lesser degree in other NATO countries. Thus, most citizens of the world have heard of numerous UFO and ET contact reports without official ridicule. Most of these peoples are ready to accept formal open extraterrestrial contact. The small minority who are not prepared are those who have fallen victim to propaganda put out by religious or secular authorities who fear that their power base will be eroded by the open presence of advanced extraterrestrial cultures. Even in the tightly-controlled U.S., public opinion polls show that a solid majority of the population believe that UFOs are real, and that the government is covering up something about UFOs.

The people's preparedness for open extraterrestrial presence will be hastened by accelerating a process which has already begun: having authoritative figures, such as former military and intelligence officers and government scientists, go public with their personal knowledge and experience with UFOs and ETs.

Q10: Who/Which types of leaders/spokespersons should take on primary initiative to make authoritative declarations about extraterrestrial contact and presence?

My answer: This leadership in making disclosures should come from a cross-section of the most respected public figures in various occupations: scientists, religious leaders, government officials, movie and radio celebrities, noted professors, respected news anchors, philosophers, artists, and physicians. Their manner should be calm, informative, accepting, optimistic and reassuring.

f) Situation-Improvement:

Q11: What are the most effective ways to quickly erase the accumulated decades of public conditioning that UFOs and ETs are imaginary or kooky thinking?

My answer: The government, through its intelligence agencies and their public Acclimation Project, has already for several years been engineering more and more serious media coverage of UFOs and ET encounters. What has been missing, and what needs to take place right now, is to start having a string of celebrities come forward, of the stature of an Oprah Winfrey or a Paul Harvey, announcing their UFO sighting or extraterrestrial encounter.

Q12: Which kinds of public figures can most effectively ease worries about whether the extraterrestrials represent a threat?

My answer: People will respond most strongly to assurances from top military officials such as Chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff Hugh Sheldon, renown religious leaders such as the Dalai Lama or the Pope, and internationally-respected diplomats such as former President Jimmy Carter.

g) Human History:

Q13: Some extraterrestrials have communicated to some experiencers that the ETs are responsible for genetically engineering homo sapiens. What will the public's reaction be to information that we are partially the product of extraterrestrial engineering?

My answer: Most educated people are aware that archeologists had discovered a puzzling gap, a Missing Link, in human evolution. And currently there are debates across society between Creationists and Evolutionists. This creates an opportunity. Extraterrestrial intervention in primate evolution to accelerate the development of an intelligent species on Earth provides the answer to the Missing Link. And extraterrestrial intervention in our evolution means that both those who oppose evolution and evolution proponents are partly correct. The public should handle this information adequately, if presented calmly by authoritative scientists, religious leaders and philosophers as new information, but which does not undermine our dignity or life purpose.

Q14: There are some indications, from both human archeological and extraterrestrial sources, that extraterrestrials have intervened in human societies regularly over the millenia, and have effected major advances in cultures. What will the public's reaction be to information that our cultures are partially the product of extraterrestrial seeding of information?

My answer: Just as human authoritative spokespersons can calmly present new information about an extraterrestrial role in human evolution, so these authorities can present additional information about how extraterrestrials have provided limited but important information at various times to help Earth cultures advance.

h) Spiritual/Religious:

Q15: Some indigenous spiritual leaders (on Earth) are saying that Jesus, Buddha, Confucius/Lao Tse, Mohammed, Krishna, White Buffalo Calf Woman, Quetzocoatl and other major figures of world religions were Star People (extraterrestrials, or humans heavily influenced by ET consciousness). How do you foresee various human groups reacting to extraterrestrial information confirming ETs' role in shaping world religions?

My answer: A key critical element in assisting religious people of Earth to understand extraterrestrial influence in the original development of world religions is to understand the spiritual nature of the extraterrestrials themselves. As Vatican Curia member Monsignor Corrado Balducci has publicly stated on Italian television, the extraterrestrials are persons, have souls, and are probably more spiritually advanced than humans are. The ET influence on the thinking and teachings of the world religions' founders should therefore be seen as a sharing of a more developed spiritual perspective with our more primitive and struggling ancestors, and not as manipulation or trickery. When we teach our children about spirituality, we do not start with advanced graduate theology. We start where we find the child, and help him/her develop and refine their innate spiritual nature. We should not be surprised if these altruistic extraterrestrial visitors did the same.

Q16: What responsible role can current leaders of world religions take, to deal with the impact of extraterrestrial revelations about ET influence on earlier man's spiritual culture?

My answer: Current religious leaders can follow the initiative begun by the Vatican, in allowing Monsignor Balducci to make trial-balloon statements about extraterrestrial reality and spirituality. Just as the Catholic Church needs to follow up on these beginning statements with more official declarations by the Pope, so other world religions need to begin the process of acclimating their followers to the fact that spiritual knowledge is not just invented each generation, but is also handed down from elders; and that some of humanity's religious understandings were handed down from nonhuman elders.

i) Infrastructure:

Q17: There will be great pressure on human society to rapidly adopt the ETs' many advanced devices, sciences and technology. Yet worldwide there is not enough money to adequately maintain existing infrastructure (roads, transportation, utilities, schools, etc.). How should we recommend that resources be allocated?

My answer: With the fair and equitable distribution of ET technology, especially including Free-Energy devices, to all peoples of the Earth, as mentioned earlier, all peoples will be able to afford and have the basic elements of a civilized life without polluting the Earth. Remaining differences in various societies will result from different cultural emphases on how much effort to put into elaborate material goods versus emphases on mental, spiritual or artistic development.
