Apollo X Gets Glimpse Of An Extraterrestrial Monolith In Space; Later A Secret Military Space Shuttle Retrieves the Monolith

By
Richard Boylan, Ph.D.

This reports comes from a very close relative of a former division head of CIA. This informant, whom I shall call "Jesse", has over 40 years of his relative's notes. Jesse says that these notes will be disseminated directly through me or through National Security Council scientist Dr. Michael Wolf. I have talked with Dr. Wolf about the notes' author, Jesse's relative. Dr. Wolf said that CIA official "was like an uncle to me." When asked for his motivation in releasing his relative's notes, Jesse answered, "For posterity reasons, let's say."

According to "Jesse", in 1969 the Apollo 10 astronauts were the first to get a glimpse of an extraterrestrial Monolith, somewhat like, but smaller than, the one in Arthur C. Clarke's book/movie "2001". Apollo 10 went to it, and filmed it from every angle. The Monolith acted like a communication beacon. Jesse says, "It sort of acts like the message received in the movie "Contact". It had a message on it, in addition to a map of the [extraterrestrial civilization which placed it there], and how to get to them."

Astronauts Stafford, Cernan and Young brought back the message captured on film. The Monolith affected Apollo 10's instrumentation, so that Apollo 10's crew almost didn't get back.

The government then used an early secret military version of the Space Shuttle to go get the Monolith. Years before the first "official" Shuttle's public flights, which started in 1981, this covert Shuttle flew, operated by a secret military astronaut program out of Vandenburg Air Force Base, California among other locations. The second flight mission of this unacknowledged military Space Shuttle retrieved the Monolith, using the shuttle arm, and brought it back to Earth in 1972 for study.

[Jesse provided additional comment on the successor craft to the secret military Space Shuttle. "Matter of fact, it (military Shuttle) was replaced in '85 with Aurora up to '92", thus indicating that the oft-rumored Aurora hyperfast aerospace vehicle not only is operational since 1985, but is already obsolete. Jesse says that its successor "followed on with DarkStar's retro-fit." This, according to the late USAF Colonel Steve Wilson, is the Lockheed X-22A DarkStar, a two-man discoid craft, which uses antigravity technology on a airframe perfected on Lockheed's "cover" program, a conventional unmanned reconnaissance drone, the X-22, also called DarkStar. Jesse tantalizes with a hint about the antigravity DarkStar's having becoming obsolete by "another [craft] in '01." Yet another exotic space vehicle! Jesse added, "The [Cape Canaveral] Shuttle stuff you see is for Hollywood to direct."]

But already the Intelligence compartments which deal with UFOs were busy poring over information on the Monolith gleaned from the films Apollo 10 took.

After being retrieved, the Monolith was then transferred to a secret research facility. Jesse says, "It has a sound to it, like it talks. It also gives off a light show." Among the scientists who worked on it were: famed astronomer Dr. Carl Sagan, U.S. Army Intelligence and Security Command General William Stubblebine, (ret.), National Security Council consultant Dr. Michael Wolf, and a former division head of CIA. Everyone who had prolonged close physical contact with the Monolith got cancer, Jesse says. "And those who tried to dissect it [the Monolith] died right there on the spot." The CIA Counter-Intelligence official and Dr. Wolf got colon cancer. The CIA man required surgery, but Dr. Wolf's cancer later went into a spontaneous remission. Dr. Sagan eventually died of his cancer.

Subsequently, scientific analysis of the Monolith was conducted at an underwater biosphere located north of the Abaco, the northernmost of the Bahamas Islands. RCA Corporation is in charge of that experimentation research, Jesse says. "They did it underwater, after they saw people dropping like flies. They figured that there would be better containment [of the Monolith's suspected energy emanations] underwater."

Jesse feels that there are many more Monoliths out in space, acting as "postcards". "I'm sure Mother Russia had one," he added.

And the apparent coincidence of Arthur C. Clarke writing in "2001" about a Monolith discovered by astronauts turns out not really to be a coincidence at all. Jesse revealed that Clarke has been in the employ of the Central Intelligence Agency, and thus could well have heard about the non-fiction Monolith.

The following report also comes from the very close relative of a former division head of CIA. This informant, whom I shall call "Jesse", has over 40 years of his relative's notes.

This report also comes from a very close relative of a former division head of CIA. This informant, whom I shall call "Jesse", has over 40 years of his relative's notes. Jesse says that these notes will be disseminated directly through me or semi-retired NSC scientist Dr. Michael Wolf. I have talked with Dr. Wolf about the notes' author, Jesse's relative. Dr. Wolf said that CIA official "was like an uncle to me." When asked for his motivation in releasing his relative's notes, Jesse answered, "For posterity reasons, let's say."

Jesse told me, "Here is the 1973 formula for what we discussed [gravity control formula used by the military to construct antigravity aerospace vehicles]:

$\phi(x) = \langle \phi(x) | 0 \rangle + \psi(x)$, where $\langle \phi(x) | 0 \rangle$ is the vacuum expectation value, and $m^2 \langle \phi(x) | 0 \rangle^2$ represents the particle's density of the ground state in the non-relativistic limit. The action of this field in the presence of gravity is...intrinsic gravitational cosmological constant $\Lambda / 8\pi G$ receives a contribution $(1/2) m^2 \langle \phi(x) | 0 \rangle^2$."

Jesse mentioned that the noted quantum physicist Jack Sarfatti of the San Francisco Bay Area was in a position to be familiar with this classified government gravity formula. Jesse observed, "With regard to Sarfatti, as I can determine it [from the notes], he was on site doing work on the relationship between downed UFO's and back-engineering, to the degree that he assisted in the gravity makeup formulae." And Jesse added that Sarfatti noted that the captured UFO's field propulsion guidance was focused on the ET pilot. "[The UFO pilot console] had the hand placement with micro holes and light-emitting senses [sensors] to feel the impulse of the sudden hand movement; hence it [pilot and UFO] became as one. The driver always feels the outer skin's 'road feel', so it [the UFO] can handle better than a Corvette at 125 mph in fifth gear in the big curve." Jesse added, "Then again, Sarfatti has these numbers...he can attest to the numbers and even affirm that it is in use today! Matter of fact, formulae even tell a story of the skin association between flyer and craft. It depends on the vacuum expectation value to go particle ground state, and with this you time travel on a wave. They [ET pilots] think it...and go. Sort of like...point-click and ship! Boom...you're there."

I would observe that, perhaps as a consequence of his exposure to this extraterrestrial mind-matter connection, Dr. Sarfatti co-founded a Physics/ Consciousness Research Group, 1974.

Apollo 14 Mission astronaut Edgar Mitchell, a Navy Commander, walked on the Moon in 1971. About a year later, government UFO specialists were analyzing the Monolith filmed by Apollo 10, as well as ongoing analysis of UFO crash retrievals. Jesse revealed that after the astronaut's return to Earth, "Edgar Mitchell was a part of the briefing of the Joint Chiefs of Staff I group, who at that time told them about the known [gravity-control] formulae. RAND Corporation (CIA think tank) holds the key to the formulae." Jesse went on to add, "Our Navy even set up the United Earth Space Naval Forces. I believe this group to be in existence today."

Jesse says that Dr. Wolf was at the RAND Corporation at one point in his career, and developed an 18-foot-wide torus-shaped antigravity field, using counter-rotating magnets. Dr. Wolf was quite familiar with the government gravity-control formulae, being involved in UFO research as a member of NSC's MJ-12 [UFO information control] Committee. END OF POST.
