Regarding "Jerry Freeman" - Latest First

Entering "City Of Dead" was unavoidable

I took no photos of The Los Alamos facility. It was never my intention to compromise their security. I only crossed it because it was directly astride my route to Cane Spring.

Photos

Shame he didn't take a photo of the dead city, instead of taking photos of the various signposts. Scary stuff, as I have visited Area 51, your in the middle of nowhere and no-one can hear you scream. A very brave man, especially when you see the white landrovers the security travel around in, you start to want to get out of there.
