Regarding "Peter Petrisko" - Latest First

What is "Scientific Prophecy"?

"Scientific prophecy" is a term I've used for a prognosticating method that requires no all-powerful psychic ability, no divination tools, no channeled messages, nor any 'remote viewing' training. "Scientific prophecies" are made by extrapolating past trends, sometimes going back decades, and juxtaposing those with analogous but ultimately dissimilar current events in order to determine a third, probable future occurrence. It was the method I used to determine my set of "control" predictions for 1998 (see: <http://www.ufomind.com/misc/1998/feb/d18-001.shtml>) -- which, so far, have proved as accurate (and, in most cases, more accurate) than those determined with 'extrasensory' gifts.
